SPEAKER TO TELL EUROPE'S NEEDS

Dr. Philipson Will Address Meeting Here Monday.

OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR RELIEF

$12,000 Is Allen-co Quota for Jewish Fund.

All plans for the mass meeting to be held at Memorial Hall Monday night for starting the campaign for the Jewish War Relief fund have been completed.

This meeting has been arranged to show citizens of Lima the actual conditions in many of the countries which bore the brunt of the world war and which have been unable to reconstruct themselves.

Dr. David Philipson, Cincinnati, noted lecturer and world traveler, will be the principal speaker. He will tell conditions in Europe from a personal investigation made recently.

Short talks will be made by C. A. Ringham, city manager, Rev. Samuel Huecker and Rev. Kirk O'Farrell. L. E. Ludwig will be the chairman of the meeting and mass singing will be led by Fred Calvert.

INSPIRATIONAL MEETING

No money will be raised at this meeting. It is being held to show the need and to serve as an inspirational gathering for the team members who will start Tuesday to obtain the $12,000 quota for Allen-co.

A two reel movie picturing the countries in Europe and their needs will be shown the entire week at the Sigma theater, the committee has announced.

Every indication that the campaign will meet the support of Allen-co people is being seen by the committee from the combined Jewish organizations in Lima. N. L. Michael, chairman, said Saturday.

"All money collected will be used for Jew and Gentile alike and there will be no waste. Every cent donated will go to relief work, as the running expenses are met from other sources," he added.

BARBERRY ORDER IS ISSUED

Scores of Lima People Must Destroy Wheat Rust Breeder.

Results of a barberry investigation by men from the office of L. J. Taber, director of the state department of agriculture, are now being brought to the attention of many Lima people.

Scores of them are receiving notices that their premises are infested with common or European barberry, based by agricultural authorities, over the entire country.

Judge Emmett J. Jackson is one of those informed of the presence of the obnoxious plant, which has been found to be injurious to wheat and other cereals, in that it is a breeder of rust. The inspectors investigated the judge's premises at 805 W. Spring-st. May 17. He has one plant.

Owners must destroy the barberry by June 10. The method of destruction is digging the plants up by the roots and burning them.

Penalty for failure to comply with the order is said to be contained in Section 1125 of the general code of Ohio. Judge Jackson said he was unaware of the existence of the law and set about to look it up.

Inspections are still being made in this county.

PAY BOOSTED
MARTIN'S FERRY, Ohio.—The Wheeling Steel Corporation Saturday announced a ten per cent advance in the wages of hour workers in its plants.

The company operates in Stoubeville, Beech Bottom, Yorkville, Wheeling, Benwood, Portsmouth and this city.

CHINCK BUGS IN BARLEY ATTACK

Fields Ruined By Invasion—Danger to Corn Fields.

Between one-third and one-half of the barley crop in Allen-co has been destroyed by chinch bugs, H. J. Ridge, county farm agent, said Saturday.

"There are more chinch bugs this year than ever before and the corn crop will be riddled as never before unless preventative measures are taken by the farmers," Ridge warned.

In an inspection tour thru Monroe-twp. fields were found in which the chinch bugs were so thick on the ground that the earth was hidden from sight.

Many fields of barley have been so thoroughly ruined that it was necessary to plow it up and plant some other crop.

During the first part of July, when small grains are being cut, the chinch bugs will move into the corn fields. Corn crops will be destroyed unless preventative measures are taken, Ridge said.

It will be necessary for farmers to surround their farms with an oil or tar barrier. Chinch bugs will not pass over this if it is kept freshened from time to time, it is asserted.

Hot sun easily kills the chinch bugs and when they are turned back by the tar barrier they move backward and forward until they are killed by the heat.

A demonstration barrier will be placed around a corn field in Spencer-twp. within the next two weeks, Ridge says. An exhibit at the Allen-co Fair is also planned.

Meetings will be held in every township within the next three weeks, to warn the farmers of the danger to their crops which is imminent this year. The first of these meetings will be held this week.

ESCAPED PATIENT ELUDES ARREST

Man Who Flees Hospital Believed to Be in Toledo.

"Curly" Williams, negro, who escaped from Lima State hospital, Friday afternoon, has covered his tracks well and is believed to be either in Toledo or Detroit.

Altho Dr. Charles H. Clark, superintendent of Lima State hospital, notified Toledo and Detroit authorities at once, no word has been received as to his capture.

Nothing has any information come to the hospital head as to anyone who might have seen Williams. They are of the opinion the negro boarded a train after nightfall and is now far away from Lima.

Williams was dressed in prison garb at the time of his departure. He walked away from the hospital basement while at work in the kitchen department. Traces of the negro were lost when he entered a dense wood near the hospital.

"BOYVILLE" ENTHUSIASTIC

Lima's "Boyville" has already enthusiastically received the announcement that the Lions club and the Y. M. C. A. are planning to give them free swimming lessons during "Swimming Week," June 12 to 17.

Members of the Lions club have started their campaign to enable every boy between the ages of 12 and 17 to learn to swim before they leave for their summer vacation.

Every year hundreds of youth throughout the United States lose their lives because they do not know how to swim, or because they have not been taught the right methods.

Realizing this, the Lions club has arranged with the Y. M. C. A. to teach Lima boys the correct method of swimming. Expert instruction will be given in the swimming pool by the "Y" instructors.

DIVING EXHIBITION

An exhibition of diving and fancy swimming will be held at the "Y" Friday night at 8 o'clock. Some of the best swimmers of the city will demonstrate their skill, for the benefit of the boys and their fathers.

Each boy desiring to obtain these free lessons should obtain an application blank and fill it out. The coupon in The Lima News may be used or a blank obtained at the American Bank.

These blanks must be returned to the American Bank, the Y. M. C. A. or to some member of the Lions club committee before June 12.

Members of the committee are: W. S. Shepard, W. D. Harman, V. H. Hay and E. C. Yingling.

They found a letter to Anderson, signed "Frank Anderson," the father of the slain man, wherein the writer said: "When I left here, she swore she would find you if it took years and would do you all the harm she could. She acted like a wild woman then and had a most peculiar look in her eyes. You know I heard her threaten to kill you on two occasions when you were on your good behavior for things she could not prove afterwards."

The letter pleaded that Anderson was warned "for we all love you."

TWO ARE KILLED IN WRECK

Auto Party is Hit by Train in Indiana.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind.—(United Press)—Two were killed and three hurt seriously when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a train on the Lake Erie and Western Railway, one-mile south of Dunreith, Saturday evening. The dead are:

Lloyd L. Bozell, 44, Terre Haute.
Barbara Gertrude Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Long, Terre Haute.

The injured are:
Mrs. Mollie Bozell, wife of Lloyd Bozell, badly crushed and injured internally, likely to die.

Mrs. Bert Long, cut and bruised, one leg cut to the bone from the knee to the ankle, probably requiring amputation.

Mrs. Charles Carrothers, cut and bruised.
The party was enroute from Terre Haute to Dayton, Ohio.

Betty Ruth Carrothers, one year old, was sitting on her mother's lap in the rear seat of the automobile and escaped injury.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, of Terre Haute, was in a machine a few feet in the rear of the Bozell car and were eye witnesses to the accident.

WOMAN IS GIVEN LIFE TERM

Convicted of Murdering Her Husband in Indiana.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind.—(United Press)—A crushed and broken woman was led from the courtroom of Judge Alonzo Blair Saturday.

Clara Gibson Carl, alleged feminine Bluebeard, heard her fate pronounced by Judge Blair.

"Guilty of murder in the second degree."

And the pronouncement: "Imprisonment in the woman's prison for life."

The woman who was branded by the jury of the murder of Frank Carl, her second husband, was in a state of collapse. Her condition was considered grave.

Conviction was obtained by the state upon the basis of the evidence introduced to show that Mrs. Carl had fed arsenic to her first husband and his father as well as to her second husband. Arsenic was found in the stomach of Robert Gibson, the first husband, who was buried at Nelsonville, Ohio.

FAIR, WARMER DAYS FORECAST

Whether it be automobiling or boat riding planned for today, the weather forecast is such in prospect that either will probably be enjoyable.

Despite the fact there was a slight rainfall last night, the weather bureau has it that clouds will be dispelled by sunshine today and that generally fair conditions will prevail Sunday and Monday, with rising temperature.

One of the best features of a weather prospect is that no mortal can change it. There never was a brand of temperature condition that satisfied everybody at the same time—and there probably never will be.

The best way to meet a situation is to accept it in a philosophical manner the edict of the weatherman and let it go at that.

Irritable Husband Wrecks Business and Home

Says He Was Weak, Wornout and "All In"
as a Result of Nerve Force
Exhaustion

How you may quickly help put new nerve force into worn-out exhausted nerve cells, and remarkably increase your strength, power and endurance, often in two weeks time.

For sometime I had noticed that I was quite nervous and often annoyed very much by trifles. When I was in a bad mood at home, my wife would occasionally say that I was a sign of age, and this would irritate me still more. I knew I was under constant nervous strain, but I never thought that I was a nervous wreck. I was a physical and mental wreck. But one day this is just what happened to me, and very suddenly at that. Nature had given me such warning symptoms as a dull aching pain in the lower back part of my head, and sometimes a sense of fullness in the front of my head. Often I was restless and could not sleep well at night, and I noticed that I would get tired very quickly, but my principal warning symptom was nervous irritability and if I had given attention to it at the right time, I might have saved myself untold misery and thousands of dollars because after my nervous breakdown came about, I still tried to go on with my business and thereby lost nearly everything I had. I found out that exhausted nerve force not only ruins a man physically but mentally as well.

The above is a hypothetical case, which a physician says may well illustrate thousands which exist today. From a wrecked, children ruined; all through exhausted nerve force or neurasthenic conditions.

Very few people realize the awful suffering and terrible physical and mental tortures which may be caused by a depletion of the nervous fluid.

In such cases it is often worse than foolish to take mere stimulating medicines or narcotics, which only whip up your raging vital powers for the moment, maybe at the expense of your life later on.

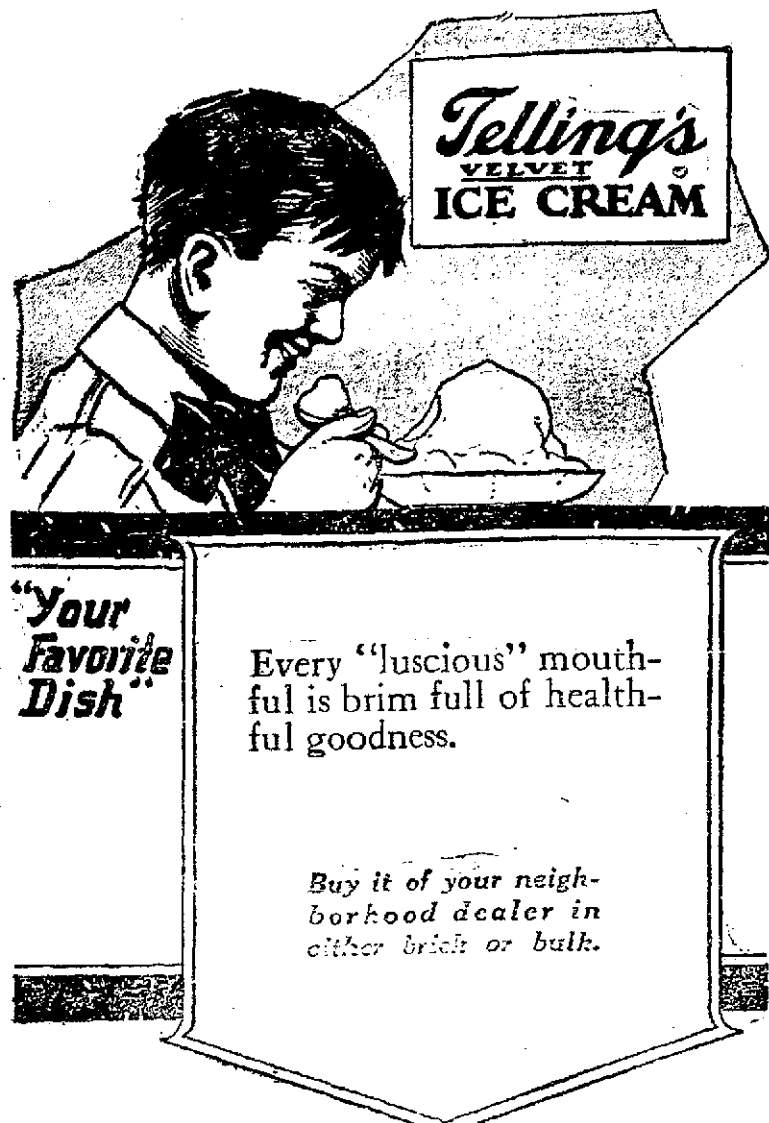

What you need is to put more nerve force into your nerves and more iron into your blood to help make new nerve cells. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most nearly resembles that in the nerve and brain cells of a man.

It also contains organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. This form of iron will not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from metallic iron which people usually take. Nuxated Iron may therefore be termed both a blood and a nerve tonic, as it leads strength-giving iron to your blood and the principal chemical ingredient of active, living nerve force to your brain and nerve cells.

Over four million people are using Nuxated Iron annually, and from the remarkably beneficial results which it has produced, the manufacturers feel so certain of its efficacy that they guarantee satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. Beware of substitutes, look for the word "Nuxated" on every package. After using Nuxated Iron we shall be pleased to have you write us what it does for you for publication. SUTTER SUGGESTS BIRTHDAY PLAN
Submit to Examination By Physician as Celebration.
WARFARE ON TUBERCULOSIS
County Health Gives Facts On Menace to Man

Dr. John J. Sutter, county health commissioner, has devised a new way in which a person may celebrate his birthday.
He says that with the many illnesses which beset mankind the wisest thing to do is to celebrate a birthday by submitting to a complete physical examination by a reputable physician.
In this way Dr. Sutter has started a war on tuberculosis. This disease attacks all classes and ages, menaces every community, homes and individuals. It usually attacks those in poor health or a state of nervousness. Dr. Sutter said.
WHAT RECORDS SHOW
He relates that statistics show 79 per cent of persons fully exposed for a long time become infected and that 25 per cent exposed for a short time become infected. Eight per cent of persons casually exposed, or those coming in contact with the disease in street cars, places of business, stores or in such ways, become infected.
One hundred and six persons died in 1929 and of this number 42 were in Lima. Dr. Sutter again quotes statistics to show that tuberculosis annually kills 160,000 in the United States. Thirty per cent, he says, of all deaths are between 16 and 50 years.
A thorough examination is necessary to detect early cases, the patient sometimes not suspecting he has the disease.
Dr. Sutter says that signs that the patient should consult a physician for examination are found in a tired and feeble, without cause; loss of appetite, loss of weight, not otherwise accounted for; shortness of breath, especially after slight exertion; continued hoarseness or loss of voice, slight fever in the afternoon; blood from the lungs in spitte.
The health commissioner calls attention to the fact that cases may be far advanced before developing a cough. Cough may be effected by having early symptoms and taking treatment at once, he asserts.
NECESSARY FOR CURE
Dr. Sutter outlines as a sure cure freedom from work and worry, rest in the open air, good nourishing food, sufficient sleep at least ten hours, good cheer, happiness and peace of mind.
Medical attention in warm climates will not cure, unless the patient can be for a year without relying on work and worry, he says. Other- wise, as chances, under the care of a reputable physician are just as good in Ohio as anywhere, the health commissioner says.

CHARTER FOR AUXILIARY TO LEGION STILL OPEN
Women who are related to world war veterans may still become charter members of the auxiliary to the American Legion.
The Ladies auxiliary to the Legion, which was recently granted a charter, has decided to hold open the charter until July 1 with a view to securing names of more women as charter members.
According to those in charge, the organization promises to start off with a charter membership made up of Lima's most prominent women, who entered such a part in assisting to win the world war. Mrs. J. L. Cannon, wife of Dr. Cannon, 1001 N. Mercantile, is president of the auxiliary. Wives, mothers or sisters of Legion members are eligible.
LIMA PYTHIANS WILL VISIT SPENCERVILLE
Representatives of Lima Lodge, No. 51, Knights of Pythias, will go to Spencerville Tuesday evening, where they will confer the degree of knight upon a large class of Spencerville men. The trip will be made by motor.
A parade of visitors and members will be a feature of the entertainment to be held preceding the lodge work for the unforgotten degree team at Lima lodge. Dinner will be served at Spencerville lodge following conferring of degree work.

TWO CARS AFFECTED BY INTERURBAN TIME CHANGE
Change of schedule will become effective Sunday on the Lima, Ft. Wayne interurban line.
The first east bound car will leave Lima at 8:10 a. m. and arrive in Lima at 5:30. Instead of 6:40, as at present.
The west bound car formerly leaving Lima at 5:45 p. m. will now depart at 5 p. m., arriving at Lima at 5:25. It will arrive at Lima at 5:35. Van Wert at 6:12. The company has not adopted eastern time and operates all cars on central standard time.

FORMER BANKER RETURNS HOME TO FACE CHARGE
CINCINNATI — Homer Dean, Columbus, former vice-president of the First National Bank, Sutton, W. Va., returned to Charleston Saturday night to face charges of misappropriating $25,000 of the bank funds.
Eight years ago Dean fled from Sutton. He traveled under the name of Homer Dean. He finally settled at Columbus, Ohio, with his wife and child. Friday he was arrested in Cincinnati in which he held a responsible position.
Dean says: "I lost everything in losing money. My fortune of $70,000 was swept away."
Saturday Dean waived examination before Thomas Gregory, United States commissioner.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

TWO significant developments of the week indicate the further advance prosperity is making in its sweep over this nation. First, the reports of little or no unemployment in manufacturing centers; secondly, the English pound touched a new high mark and Great Britain gave notice of payment of interest on its international debt.

Stocks continued to soar on the New York Exchange, the movement assuming, however, more and more indications of the speculative character. The merits or earnings of stocks under bull pools play little part. The public is in for profits, quick profits, and not as investors. Best authorities expect the upward trend to go on uninterrupted, believing we are only in the first stage of a big bull campaign.

Motor companies continue to report unprecedented sales, taxing output of factories. Car loadings hold up well, despite the loss of coal traffic; oils, coppers, steels are in heavy demand and prices advancing. Cotton continues firm and higher; agricultural products are gaining daily. Over the country, we are in a building era from coast to coast.

Locally, money shows signs of easing and even Building and Loans may be in position to extend wider accommodations after this month. All our contractors are busy and the building trades generally are out looking for labor.

Retail trade is good, with promise of a much better summer season than last. Real estate is beginning to come into its own, and especially noted is the trend towards home-owning and home-building. Realtors believe there will be 500 new residences and apartments erected in Lima before the end of the year.

Local shops are now advertising for men and scouring the city and country rounding up old employees. Lima, like the nation, is entering upon another long upward swing. Be quite sure you ride along on the prosperity wave.

DISCLOSURE IS STARTLING

TUBERCULOSIS clinic held in Lima during the past week has brought to light facts of a startling character. Of 64 persons examined in chest tests, $1 were found with unmistakable signs of tuberculosis. Thirty-two of the number are without symptoms of white plague. Eleven suspicious cases were found, which will be placed under surveillance.

Much has been said concerning more widespread precaution against the spread of tuberculosis. There is no question but that it is a communicable disease. That was established long ago. Being true, there is only one way to fight it successfully and that is by constant surveillance, at least partial isolation of the victims and the application of strength giving nourishment, while the patient stays in the open, for pure air and warm sunshine, as much as possible.

Any and every movement which has for its purpose the eradication of tuberculosis, is deserving of support. It is an insidious disease, attacking where least expected. Taken in time, it can be cured. If neglected, it means death to the victim and danger to others.

Bettering the environment of mild cases, educating them to care for themselves in the right manner and instilling courage in the hearts of those who are attacked, are the best methods to be employed.

Tuberculosis is one of the deadliest foes of the human race. Science is proceeding along well organized lines in combating it. It is something that those now free of it are vitally interested in, for they are in danger from it so long as the disease is unchecked.

The day will come when cases of tuberculosis will be as rare as they are now common. Science is triumphing.

HOPES SHATTERED

LEGAL opinion by Prosecuting Attorney Eugene Lippincott that the county commissioners have no authority to expend money on the Pine-st bridge approach is a severe jolt for fine-spun hopes and aspirations on the part of the city government.

Likewise, those who reside in that section of the city which makes it necessary for them to use the Pine-st bridge over the river and those who cross the structure with vehicles, are depressed. It is believed it will be a long time before the problem of securing money to complete the bridge improvement can be met.

The south approach to Pine-st bridge is held to be purely a city proposition. It is not a county bridge. Lippincott holds. It is not in the same class as the Elm-st bridge, for which $18,000 has been promised by the county. Elm-st is classed as a county road.

An uncompleted concrete bridge is not a thing of beauty, neither is it the perfection of excellence in usage, when approaches are mud wallows. The situation presents a new problem for the city government to solve.

VANISHING ROMANCE

GRAY-HAIRED men, during springtime, are haunted by the fascinating memories of their departed youth.

They recall how, about this time of year, long ago, they dreamed of running away to sea.

Of all forms of romantic adventure, the sailor's life has been the top-notch since Marco Polo some six centuries ago brought the magnetic needle compass from Asia, thereby putting ocean exploration firmly on its feet. It was a great step forward from charting a ship's course by the stars.

In a few generations, the world has seen romance steadily driven from the sailor's life.

The beautiful full-rigged schooner rotted at anchor, crowded out by the steamship. The slave trader passed. Pirates were driven from the high seas.

Seamen's unions regulate ocean life where once the cutlass, belayin'-pin and "walking the plank" reigned supreme.

One of the final nails has just been driven in the coffin of ocean romance in the Westinghouse electrical plant, Philadelphia.

The occasion was the first successful demonstration of a giant gyroscope which will prevent big ocean liners from rolling except during heavy storms. Similar "gyro-stabilizers" are already in use on some smaller ships, especially yachts.

Romance is disappearing from the land, as well as the ocean. It is one of the penalties of what man calls progress, or the conquest of the earth and the elements.

Scientists and inventors are making life dull, cut-and-dried, and romance exits with uncertainties.

The modern boy senses this. The briny deep has no such lure for him as it had for his father. And the 1922 youngster is losing a lot, even if he imagines he is finding as much romance in wireless and airplanes as his pa found in the domain of shanghaied sailors.

BETTER BUSINESS

MERCHANTS of Lima are opening an educational campaign during the present week to inform the buying public of the movement known as the Better Business Bureau. The idea is not new, but is national in character and organization, and long has existed in larger cities.

Thousands of people visit the retail stores of Lima annually. When a customer is displeased, there is no way for the owner of the store to know it. Better Business Bureau operates to discover such transactions and make immediate adjustment. Yet it has a much wider scope, under what might be termed a policy to insist that the patron get what is advertised or represented.

We especially request that every buyer in Lima read the display announcements of the Better Business Bureau. They will learn they have rights, which the store owner wants them to insist upon and receive. Merchandising today is on a big, wide scale of broadmindedness. Merchants consider themselves servants of the public, acting in the distribution of their stocks, in the same capacity as do railroads and transportation companies for their travelers.

Lima is fortunate in possessing a very high grade and high type of merchant. Ninety-five percent of them might be rated as Class AAA. They want their customers satisfied; they want their service as near perfect as is humanly possible, and above all, they want to know when misrepresentations are made and by whom. Better Business Bureau operates toward this perfection of satisfaction, between seller and buyer.

If you have a complaint, you have a bureau where that complaint will be heard and investigated.

Common Sense Ways to Well SUPERSTITIONS

The ancients had many rooted superstitions concerning the history of medicine. Most of them have been proved to be well grounded on facts.

Away back in the beginning of the history of medicine, known that a single attack of the disease rendered the patient, probably, and in many cases, absolutely, immune to further attacks.

Today scientists use substances extracted from the same purpose the Nero's doctor, gave viper blood to his patients.

History states that the Greek king, Mithridates, always poisoning, tried all the antidotes known to his time, mentioning in sizes of doses of demented prisoners.

Medieval doctors advised the patient by mad dogs to eat the blood of the dog that bit him. The modern Pasteur treated hydrophobia is a more rational way of the same idea.

About the time of the Revolution, Jenner discovered that cows infected by milk of cows (cowpox) became immune to smallpox. Thus was vaccination, and countless millions made safer.

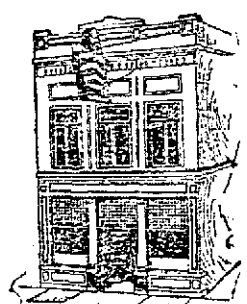

Pasteur developed Jenner's discovery into a scientific work. The horse is actively immunized against diphtheria, a poison of that disease is injected into it. Then we take the blood and use it to give passive immunity to human beings.

Besides the diseases that have antitoxins against meningitis, typhoid fever, fever, cholera and others.

Cobbs Drop Tight One

CLEVELAND—Despite ragged fielding in the early part of the game by the Indians, Morton turned in a win by keeping the hits well scattered. Three times the "Big Red" tied up, but the Indians were out in the tenth.

A base on balls to Stephenson and a sacrifice bunt by Cobb, followed by a sacrifice bunt by Cobb, tied the game in the seventh. In the eighth, Morton turned in a win by keeping the hits well scattered. Three times the "Big Red" tied up, but the Indians were out in the tenth.

LOCOS ANNEX FIRST GAME

Only one game was played in the Lima Y. baseball league Saturday afternoon. Clem Thompson, pitcher of the Luncheon Club team, failing to appear on Faurot field with his outfit. Clem was out of the city in lieu of the Luncheon Club-Marshall game, the South Side Prospects stacked up against the Marshalls in an exhibition game and lost 16-15.

The Crane-Loomotive set to proved to be lively, the latter coping 6 to 5 in eight innings—two frames longer than schedule.

The winning score was made in the eighth when Malley, right fielder for the Loco, was hit by a pitched ball. McNamara beat out a bunt and DeVer hit to center, pushing Malley over.

The Cranes were two runs behind in the seventh when, with two out, Musser beat out a hit to Schroeder at first, Galberach lined one to deep center for three sacks, scoring Musser and Galberach counted on DeVer's miff of Milnor's skidder. Score of the Crane-Locone game:

CHICAGO—Cincinnati Reds handed the Cubs another defeat by the score of 4 to 2 here Saturday. The visitors slugged Vic Aldridge for ten bingles, while foxy Eppa Jephtha Rixey was holding the Bruins to eight scattered ones.

Jimmy Caveney lifted one over the fence for the circuit. From the sixth to the eighth honors were even, but a walk and three hits shoved Cincinnati ahead in the latter frame. Burns, Daubert and Pincelli led the Red hitters, with two hits apiece. The score:

MARSHALLS AT DELPHOS

Strengthened by the addition of Olin Dickey, former Michigan-Ontario leaguer, Bob McClellan, former Lima Independent, and John Phillips, just returned from the Hagerstown, Maryland, club of the Blue Ridge league, the Marshalls will tackle the speedy team at Delphos this afternoon.

The team was lucky to get Phillips, who quit Hagerstown and will probably be a free lance from now on. He is a classy backstop and will assist greatly in pulling the Marshalls thru a difficult schedule.

Dickey is a shortstop and McClellan an outfielder. Both are touted to murder the ball. King will pitch his second game. Reynolds will be in left field; Powell, 2b; Pelligrini, 3b; Greenland, 1b; Allen or Ayers, 3b.

The club and rooters leave the Lincoln Highway garage at 12:30 p. m. Central Standard time.

Weary And Forlorn

By HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK—Bruised from hitting every bump in the west, John McGraw is dragging homeward with a team of champions on the ropes.

With a narrow lead of one game over a fast following field, the Giants are on their way back to their own back yard with a big job on their hands.

The club left on its first western trip with the promise of bringing back a lead that would put them "in" by the middle of July. The scars they brought back, make it look now that they'll be "in" if they do get "in."

NEEDS PLAYERS

There is a good chance that McGraw will get his hand settled when they get back home but at the present time, it doesn't seem possible that he can get along without another pitcher and a seasoned center fielder. He would be willing to buy and pay big cash with a pennant at stake, but it has been whispered around from corners that don't gossip idly that Commissioner Landis will not permit any deal that savors of buying the pennant.

It is understood that the commissioner got very busy when he heard that the Giants had offered the Cincinnati Reds $150,000 for Eddie Roush and Pete Donohoe.

Young's Strange Comeback

By BILL EVANS

PHILADELPHIA'S Athletics, a team that finished in the last place each season for the last seven years, has been the sensation of the first two months of the American League campaign. Connie Mack's organization, going thru a long and tedious process of reconstruction, apparently has arrived.

However, the reason for the sudden turn of events in the life and habits of the team is due not wholly to the men that Mack has had under him for the last few years. On the contrary, the bulk of the credit is given to three players who came to the Athletics this year from other clubs. "Pop" Young, second baseman, was secured from Detroit; "Bing" Miller, center fielder, came to Philadelphia from Washington, and "Doc" Johnston, first baseman, is from Cleveland.

Young's case is peculiar. Last spring, as a member of the Detroit team, Young suddenly developed a throwing weakness. He found it impossible to throw accurately to first, particularly when there were runners on the bases.

NOTHING VISIBLY WRONG

Several examinations of Young's arm failed to reveal any physical weakness and Young was suffering, apparently, from a mental hazard.

When he showed the same weakness this spring Detroit decided that Young could not overcome the fault as long as he played with the Tigers and so waivers were asked on him. Connie Mack took him at the waiver price.

When Young reported to Mack, the Athletic boss asked him how his arm was and Young told him that it was in fine shape.

"You say your arm is all right, but that your throwing is bad. What is the trouble?"

"Mental, I guess."

"I guess so, too. But my troubles also are mental. For seven years I have been managing ball clubs here that have succeeded in finishing last each year and that is enough mental trouble for anyone. I can sympathize with you."

THROW THE BALL

"Now, I want you to do just one thing for me and that is—throw the ball."

"Now, I don't care if you throw it 20 feet wide of first base or 20 feet over the first baseman's head. Throw it into the grandstand or throw it out of the park, but throw it and throw it every time you get it. That's all."

Young followed Mack's advice. The throwing weakness disappeared. With this fault erased Young began hitting the ball and doing some remarkable fielding.

His fielding has been the sensation of the Athletics' play. Just as "Bing" Miller's outfielding has been. Young is playing better ball than he ever played before.

BOYS START DRIVE SOON FOR VACATION LEAGUE BASEBALL FUND

By FRANKLIN DOAN

About a year ago at this time the Vacation league was but the dream of a few but now having become a reality it is ready to resume and promises to be twice as good as it was last year. U. E. Blear, president, has not yet completed the schedule but he announces that the first guns will be fired June 12.

Already five teams have entered and several others have put in their applications. The five teams thus far entered are the Pirates, Cubs, Big 11, Shamrocks and Triangles.

Last year the Pirates won the pennant and they look good to repeat this year, but hot and fast competition will be an obstacle which will be hard for them to get away from.

Every person that was ever connected with a sport of any kind fully realizes the fact that it is necessary to spend a good deal of money to carry the expenses for balls and other necessities. Last year the league was self-supporting, but as it will cost much more this year the boys feel that it will not be asking too much of the business men to donate a quarter each. They will be ready to start their drive in about a week and support will do much toward starting them in another year of good clean sport.

Many records made last year are expected to be broken soon among them being the batting record held by Welty, the home run record held by Cox and the huge stealing record now resting in the arms of Dick Angell. Last year the Indians lead in team hitting and this team is practically the same this year under the name of Big 11.

The younger players who cannot

Cobb Seeks Honus Wagner's Record

RAY CHUBB holds a score or more records in the American League.

The name Cobb is everywhere in the list of notable major league facts, yet Cobb isn't quite satisfied.

True, Cobb is slipping. No athlete could travel the gait that he has and not show the effects. The remarkable thing about him is that he has stood the pace so long, beating the slowing up process started by Cobb no longer goes down to first in the old-time speed. He no longer takes the wild chances on the bases that was once a part of his daily routine.

12 STATES STAGE CHAMPIONSHIPS

So far 12 states have held trap-shooting championships for the season of 1922, and to William Heer of Oklahoma goes the palm for highest score.

Heer, long a trapshooter of extraordinary skill and prominence broke 199 of the 200 single targets. The next best score was made by Frank J. Cairns of Kansas, his card showing 197. The lowest score to win a title so far was 181, made by Phil Hazel, a comparatively new shot of North Carolina.

The New York Yanks are having their troubles. Ruth and Menzel have failed to get started and the billion dollar pitching staff has been a big disappointment. At this point of the race the St. Louis Browns look the best in the league.

GAME POSTPONED; WET GROUNDS

The Rowland club had a game with Monro, Michigan, cancelled today because of wet grounds, and Manager Ramer announced no effort would be made to play until next Sunday, when the team stacks up against a nine from McComb at Findlay. The following Sunday the Rowlands are slated to meet the strong Midway club at Findlay.

Practice will be held today at 9 a. m. at the Center-stadium grounds. All members are asked to be there.

Orville McGinnis resigned from the management of the club last week. Ramer will be in charge hereafter.

Franklin Celebrates First Car Sale 20 Years Ago

Twenty years ago this month, the first Franklin car was sold, and to commemorate the event Franklin dealers in all parts of the country are planning to celebrate the occasion in suitable fashion.

The two decades that have since passed represent almost the entire life of the automobile industry; the strides that the industry has made since 1902 have no doubt been a source of perennial wonder to the thousands of motorists who could see in the early "horseless carriage" nothing but an expensive toy for the rich.

The car shown in the picture is the first Franklin car that was placed on the market and was originally purchased by Mr. S. G. Averell of New York City on June 13, 1902. It is today a most cherished possession of the Franklin company. Mr. Averell (shown at the wheel) is one of the most loyal of Franklinites; he has owned a large number of Franklin cars since his first purchase and at the present time is driving the latest series Franklin which he bought last summer. Seated beside him is Mr. John Wilkinson, who twenty-one years ago invented the Franklin air-cooled engine and correlated the other various units which in their entirety made up the first Franklin car. Since that time Mr. Wilkinson has been continuously and intimately connected with the Company's progress. At present he is Vice-President of the F. H. Franklin Manufacturing Company and President of the Franklin Automobile Company.

An interesting commentary on the precision of workmanship which went into the old 1902 car is the fact that it is today in perfect running order and is still capable of making thirty miles an hour, which two decades ago was considered good road performance. Much as the now curious looking twenty year old product seems to differ from the well-tailored Franklin car of today, the same fundamental principles are present. The 1902 car was air-cooled and so is its 1922 successor; today's Franklin also, continues to utilize full elliptic springs and very light unsprung weight, as well. In the span of years between there have been of course many refinements and improvements, but the fundamentals are the same.

Many of the 3,000 employees of the Franklin factory remember the humble beginnings of the Franklin car and how the first car was made in the second story of the small machine shop building shown in the background of the picture; they are busily planning a notable celebration in honor of the sale of the first car.

TUBES FOR FORD SIZE CORDS

"Many Ford owners are equipping their cars with the new clincher cord tires made in Ford sizes," says Dale Kilgore, dealer in United States tires," and they should always remember that it is wise to use a 31x3 tube with such tires.

"Experience with these 30x3 1-2 clincher cord tires has shown that the use of a 30x3 1-2 tube frequently results in tube chafing. Careful study of the cause of the trouble has brought out the fact that the use of the larger size tube will overcome the difficulty. The recommendation applies only to clincher cord tires and not to straight-side tires.

"Trouble does not always occur where the larger tube is not used but it occurs often enough to make it wise to follow the advice we have given."

EXCHANGES LOCAL PLANT

Because of the steadily increase in business, and to facilitate sales and service, the plant of the local Ford agency has been increased in floor space to just double the former capacity. In addition to this the properly adjoining, fronting on Pearl and Main streets has been taken over for parking and used car sales purposes.

NASH EXTENDING FACTORY

Enlargement Necessary to Take Care of Increasing Business

Enlargement of the Nash Four factory at Milwaukee to provide production capacity that will more nearly care for the demand for this product, is planned by The Nash Motors company. Final arrangements for the addition have been made and contractors will begin operations within the next few days.

A new body and sheet metal plant, 168x400 feet and three stories high will provide facilities to make possible the production of the Nash Four almost in its entirety in the Milwaukee plant of The Nash Motors company. At present certain parts of the car are made in the Nash Six plant at Kenosha. The new facilities will mean much to both factories.

"The substantial addition to our Milwaukee plant will give us increased production facilities," said C. W. Nash, president of The Nash Motors company. "Building operations and installation of machinery always take considerable time. We are rushing the work as rapidly as possible but in view of the oversold condition of the Nash Four and the increasing demand for this model I do not wish to be placed in the position of extending false hopes of increased production in the immediate future.

"The Milwaukee plant with its present facilities is building an excellent car and while production of the Nash Four has been greatly increased in the past four months, we are very careful to safeguard the value of this product. We want to fill all orders just as badly as our dealers want these cars and that is why we have begun work on the plant extension, which when completed, will give us increased production in an orderly and efficient manner."

The extension to the Nash Four cylinder car plant was planned a little more than a year ago but actual work on the construction was postponed to await more favorable building conditions.

Since the first of the year demand for the Nash Four has increased each month, until in March this model was completely oversold and has been oversold ever since. Production was increased to the highest point possible consistent with careful manufacturing but the necessity of immediate action on the body plant has resulted in the letting of contracts for the building.

STANDARDIZED

LANDAULET — Automobile body similar to the brougham, with smaller seating capacity in the tonneau and a collapsible roof. Glass windows are in the doors of the enclosed part only. Back of that is the hinged frame with collapsible leather or fabric top.

BUY STANDARD BATTERY FROM AUTHORIZED DEALER

"Just as good as a new one" is a statement often made and seldom true. The need is for the good battery, the standard battery of honest construction but many battery fixers have fallen for the idea that they can build a battery as well, but a lot cheaper than the manufacturer who uses volume production methods and who has the pick of the market for supplies.

"The rebuilt battery," says H. T. Fletcher, local Willard service station man, "is often made of parts from discarded batteries which have just enough more life in them to get the purchase date. A few new parts may be added, a new case and a lot of new paint and then the sad refrain 'just as good'."

The car driver who refrains from going to a battery service station and getting more life in a battery, he gets a battery with thousands of millions wasted in plant and equipment.

"THE MOTORIST WHO HAS DRIVEN A BUICK LONGEST APPRECIATES BUICK MOST"

MERRITT STRONG FOR BUICK

Local Distributor States Owners Repeat on Orders

DEMAND OUT OF ORDINARY

Factory Organization is Backed by Sales and Service

BY L. B. MERRITT

Only another Buick can ever satisfy a Buick owner.

For many years greater ruggedness and endurance has been built into each succeeding model—for Buick has always realized that utility is a necessity to motor car value. Buick principles as applied to Valve in Head motor construction makes the Buick car unusually serviceable and economical.

During the month of February this year five Chicago dealers on one day invested over a half million dollars in Buick Valve in Head motor cars. Yet during the months of April and May there has been a great shortage of all models of Buick cars. This condition is general thruout the United States.

Experienced and critical motorists, many of whom have always owned a Buick car, are willing to wait for the car of their choice.

There is only one conclusion to arrive at considering the above facts—it is a known fact that anywhere, anytime, you can depend on the Buick.

The Buick car is a product of known value. That is the conclusion to be drawn from an examination of these things. There is no other explanation. Motorists know that Buick is more than worth waiting for, even if their dealers are unable to fill orders for many months. If motorists have not experienced the benefits of Buick ownership themselves, it is usually found that they have learned of Buick values thru the expressed satisfaction of neighbors and friends. They can see that Buick ownership is the ideal motor car ownership in all points of power, beauty, comfort, durability, resale value, and the authorized service reinforcing Buick serviceability.

And because to them Buick is a known product—a car that has resulted from twenty years' constant development—it is only natural that they should not be completely satisfied with anything less than Buick.

Consequently the demand for Buick is also out of the ordinary. As the car has been improved and manufacturing facilities enlarged year after year, the demand has more than increased proportionately. And, as much as we have endeavored to bring the supply up to a point more equal to the demand, it seems that more and more buyers have been inconvenienced each year thru their inability to purchase Buick cars when they want them.

Dealers, visualizing the future, are making every effort to be able to provide spring and summer buyers with Buick cars. But, they are bound to be handicapped in their work unless buyers place their orders early.

In February, we said, "As the prosperity of the various sections of the country gathers momentum the production of automobiles will not be sufficient to meet the demands, resulting in a shortage of motor cars of known value." Developments during the month are bearing out the strength of this statement.

Buyers are interested now in known values. And the twenty-year record behind the new Buick is evidence that in Buick there is an exceptional transportation value. No organization could grow to such proportions unless the public had found that its product was all that was expected and claimed for it. No organization could build up such large production as that of Buick, and at the same time improve the quality of the car, unless the car in itself was a good value—a good purchase—a good investment, the dividends on which, in the form of personal transportation, were highly satisfactory.

The motor world knows this simple truth and appreciates it today more than ever before.

In the immense Buick manufacturing organization, motorists also see something of known value, for Buick of the Buick car there is a factory, consisting of more than forty large plants in one group, in which the Buick is practically built in its entirety under the supervision of the engineers and designers who have devoted their efforts to the car's development and improvement.

And in this plant prospective owners know that the most progressive plan of manufacture is followed, that there are hundred and hundred of special machines built either to assist in increasing production or improving the quality of Buick, and that only the best material available is used.

In addition to the manufacturing side of the Buick, there is the sales and service organization that reaches into the far corners of the country. This is of value to the motor car owner not alone for its immensity and the advantage an owner has in always being near a Buick service station, but also because of the character and nature of the service rendered everywhere.

Knowledge of this service—the working out of the Buick plan for uninterrupted use of an owner's investment in transportation—is becoming almost as well circulated thruout the country as the knowledge of the serviceability built into Buick cars.

Because our dealers are interested in more than the sale of Buick cars and are showing such willingness to co-operate with owners, the most critical motorists are buying Buick for the reason that in them they see an exceptional combination of serviceability and service—a combination that means so much in successful motoring.

All of these things are simple facts, which we have often repeated. But the point is that, with the new Buick for Nineteen twenty-two more and more motorists are coming to understand them, as indicated by the sale of the new models in all parts of the United States.

The purpose of our advertising for years has been to make known these facts, to acquaint more people with the aims and purposes of our organization and the manner in which these policies of our organization are reflected in the quality of Buick cars. Our greatest advertising, however, has come from the thousands of Buick owners, who have not only been instrumental in interesting other motorists in Buick, but have generally contributed to the Buick growth by never being satisfied with anything less than a Buick themselves.

The above are facts that can not be refuted. Motorists want Buick cars because they know that Buick cars are of recognized and standard value.

Improper mounting of rim and tire causes unnecessary wear on the tire.

If carburetor catches fire from backfire, turn off the fuel supply and race the engine.

More than 53 per cent of the motor vehicles in the world are in the United States.

OHIO LEADS LIST IN FORD CARS

290,769 Fords in Daily Use Thruout State Says Report

The six millionth Model "T" Ford Motor was produced May 18th, in the Ford factory at Detroit. In other words, from the time back in 1903 when the Ford Motor Company began marketing the now famous Model "T" motor car until May 18th, 1922, a total of six million Ford cars and trucks have been produced. Out of this total 5,517,956 were delivered to purchasers in the United States alone, and according to the latest statistics, 4,478,248 of these Ford cars and trucks are still in daily service.

Thus, it will be seen that out of every five Ford cars and trucks sold to retail purchasers in the United States alone during the past fourteen years, four are still in actual daily use, which is really remarkable when the hard service of commercial cars is taken into consideration. This seems to forcibly confirm the popular knowledge of the longevity of Ford cars.

That Ford products have been quite evenly distributed thruout the United States is borne out by the fact that thru the sparsely settled communities in the West to the densely populated cities in the East, practically the same ratio of Ford cars and trucks to population exists.

Ohio leads with a total of 290,769 Ford cars and trucks in daily use; Illinois comes second, Pennsylvania third, Texas fourth, and Michigan fifth, with a total of 234,081. New York, Iowa and California follow in the order named, each having more than 200,000.

An idea of the important part played by Ford cars and trucks in the daily transportation of goods and persons in the United States can be gained by realization of the fact that with the Ford cars now in operation, averaging a minimum of 5,000 miles per year each, they would pile up a total of twenty-five billion transportation miles—equivalent to more than a million trips around the world.

SAME AIR IN TIRE 9,000 MILES

The return leg of one of the most remarkable camping tours on record was begun Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Uhlyk, who left New York headed for their home in Los Angeles. On their way east the tourists covered 9280 miles in a great swing thru the Northwest and then on toward New York thru the Lake States and then the New England States. On their journey west they will proceed over the southern route, going first to Miami, Florida, and then out thru New Orleans and El Paso. They will touch at the Grand Canyon before heading for home.

For their tour, Mr. and Mrs. Uhlyk use a light truck equipped with pneumatic tires. The truck is equipped with beds and cooking accommodations. Appropriately named the "Wanderlust," the little truck will have touched the soil of more states when it gets back to California than almost any other motor vehicle in existence. The tire equipment is United States Nobby Cord. When the truck finished its journey to New York two of the tires contained the same air with which they left California. The only tire trouble which appeared was a puncture in one tire and a stone bruise in another.

PRECISION plays an important part in the manufacture of the Special-Six. It is largely responsible for the dependable service that has singled out the Special-Six as an incomparable value.

Six hundred and eighty inspectors safeguard precision in the Studebaker factories. They literally inspect every part that goes into every car—and every operation on every part. Before cars are passed for delivery 9,500 inspections are made.

In the Special-Six there are 1,120 mechanical operations to the accuracy of one-thousandth of an inch, 360 to one-half-thousandth.

As to the car's performance, a brief experience will reveal its superiority far more convincingly than we could tell it.

Studebaker cars make friends quickly, because they give most for the money. And they invariably keep these friends, because of the universal satisfaction they give in fine performance, economy and service.

Studebaker Big Six Again Wins Valley Trophy.

After three days of bucking the snow drifts and dynamiting fallen trees that blocked the roads, Hart Weaver with three passengers in Studebaker Big-Six, led the way to the Yosemite National Park trophy cup for the first car in the valley to make its way over any of the three roads that lead into the valley from the Pacific Coast. The feat of the Big-Six is all the more striking from the fact that last year another Studebaker was the first to penetrate the valley; and because the second car, this year, was also a Studebaker—a Big-Six driven by Wm. J. Silva of Modesto, California. The Yosemite National Park trophy cup is awarded to the car of the season that breaks its way into the valley under the most difficult conditions. Every car must be in absolutely under its own power without the use of block or cable or any towing assistance. The start was made from Modesto, California, at midnight on Saturday, May 4, and the Big-Six reached Wawona at 5 o'clock the following morning. A few miles beyond Wawona the party met their first obstruction, a tree five feet in diameter that had fallen across the road. So deeply was it lodged that it took four separate charges of dynamite to clear the way. From this point on, the car battled snow drifts and the crew

OVERLAND SETS
NEW RECORD

The Lima Overland Company, local distributors of Overland and Willys-Knight cars, are jubilant over the belief they have set a new record far above ever made by any Lima agency dealing in medium and high priced cars, and a record which comes close to any record ever made in Lima, even by concerns handling the lowest priced cars. Eighty-one cars were sold and delivered by this company during the month of May, and many orders held for June delivery. The car situation is improving, and the local agency will get a large allotment of cars during June, and hope to get caught up on their orders.

OVERLAND FACTORY
MEN BUYING CARS

"The extraordinarily large demand for Overland and Willys-Knight cars among our own factory employees at Toledo is one of the most gratifying incidents of the season's business," said C. B. Wilson, General Manager of the Willys-Overland Company, today. "It is a tribute which the men in the plant themselves are paying to the product they are building." "We have never had such a demand in a similar period since the war. This is true also of the entire city of Toledo. Overland and Willys-Knight sales in Toledo are breaking all records, and the demand throughout the country continues to increase at a rate that is convincing evidence of the unusual values represented in the Overland and Willys-Knight line."

LIMA CLUB JOINS NEW PLAN

States Withdraw From American
Auto Association Fight

The National Automobile Association, a nation-wide organization of automobile clubs and associations, has been launched in St. Louis, following the withdrawal from the convention of the American Automobile Association by clubs and associations representing twelve states and 243,000 individual members. The states represented in the new movement are Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, New York, Minnesota, Texas, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, Dakota and Wisconsin. The Lima club has joined the new movement.

The proceedings which led to the inauguration of this movement were marked by charges on the floor of the convention that the old organization had been sold out to the Chicago Motor Club, the principal feature of which club is a proprietary insurance department.

Protests were lodged with the committee on credentials of the old organization, against the seating of 72 delegates from the Chicago Motor Club. These protests were signed by representatives from several different states.

Leaders of the clubs which have been formed the new national organization charged that the constitution and by-laws of the old association were violated in the admission of clubs independently of state association files. This, it is charged, tends to the breaking down of legislative effectiveness largely based on the observance of state lines as a unit, the result would be less protection for the automobile owner. For the protection of the automobile owner's rights and the furtherance of his interests it was determined to form a new nationwide federation based on state lines and a two day meeting of clubs in the new movement resulted in the formation of a new National Automobile Association.

France has one automobile to every 152 persons.

U. S. Bureau of Mines reports a gasoline reserve of $18,500,000 gallons, the highest on record.

About ten times the number of motor trucks in use in 1914 are being used today.

U. S. Department of Agriculture has organized sheep and poultry schools on motor trucks.

PAIGE TO HAVE OPEN HOUSE

Will Celebrate With National Demonstration Week

The week of June 11th has been set aside as National Demonstration Week by the Paige-Detroit Motor Car company. During that period all over the country from coast to coast, Paige dealers will keep "open house" and play the role of hosts, extending to all whether prospective car purchasers or not, special opportunities to ride in the Paige 6-66, try out its qualities on the road or in the city traffic and fill out a performance chart for purposes of comparison if they so desire.

National Demonstration Week, for the Paige, is in the nature of an anniversary celebration. It was in May, last year, that the Paige 6-66 Dayton Model on the Uniontown, Pa., track, broke every world's stock chassis speedway record from five to 100 miles. During the year these marks remained not only unbeaten, but unchallenged until the car that had made them, on May 7th last, on the Cotati, Calif., speedway in a dash against time covered 25 miles in 15 minutes and 27.95 seconds, a new world's stock chassis record. This added more than six miles per hour to the same car's previous world's record of 90.1 made a year ago.

It is not, of course, the purpose of the National Demonstration Week to give the motorists who accept the Paige invitation a touch of "high life" at 96 miles an hour. While these high speeds prove endurance and reliability there will be no attempt to let the 6-66 out to its full power. The demonstrations will be to show how the Paige responds to the non-professional driver and the value of its performing powers in daily service over a period of years.

JUNE BRINGS ITS FLOOD OF SOCIAL AFFAIRS

MANY PARTIES ARE SCHEDULED FOR THE MONTH

Pretentious Function Planned for Tuesday Afternoon at Shawnee Country Club, In Honor of Mrs. Carl H. Neville—Kniseley-Jemison Wedding

(By ROSEMARY CHRISTEN)

YARDEN flowers appearing everywhere in full bloom, blue skies, balmy sunshine and the delightful beauty of June-time—all are abundant incentive and sufficient excuse for the large number of parties both large and small, arranged for this month—the loveliest of all.

Occasional showers of the past week were a bit depressing, perhaps, but they also tended to bring out every feature of nature's work.

Doubtless, the most pretentious social function scheduled for the coming week will be that of Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Harry O. Benoit, Mrs. Charles B. Killen and Miss Jane Bentley will entertain several hundred guests with an at home at the Shawnee Country club in honor of Mrs. Carl H. Neville, (Julia Taylor), a recent bride.

One of the most interesting weddings of the week will be that of Saturday when a well known Lima girl, Miss Jeanette Kniseley, daughter of Mr. S. W. Williams, of W. North-st., will become the bride of F. B. Jemison, son of the Rev. D. H. Jemison, of Cincinnati. The wedding will be celebrated in the morning at 9:30 o'clock, at the Williams home, the Rev. Jemison, rather of the bridegroom, officiating. A wedding breakfast, at which the members of the immediate families and a group of intimate friends will be present, will follow the ceremony. Mr. Jemison and his bride will then leave for a several weeks' wedding trip, after which they will go to Cincinnati to make their future home.

Mr. Jemison and Miss Kniseley were classmates in the 1920 graduating class of Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, where both were prominent in the college organizations and activities. Miss Kniseley has been teaching school in North Baltimore during the past year. Mr. Jemison is now associated with the sales department of the Procter & Gamble Company.

A regular euchre party will be enjoyed by the members of the Shawnee Country club Friday evening at the club. Mrs. M. S. Thompson and Mr. C. F. Lufkin are in charge of the party.

Young People's Missionary society of Bethany Lutheran church will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bloom of 1157 Richue av. Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Evans and Miss Henrietta Nephew will assist the host and hostess.

Prague club will meet with Mrs. F. R. Ramsey of 554 N. Main-st., Wednesday afternoon.

The many friends of Mrs. Mary Argu Buckpitt, daughter of Mrs. R. W. Argus, of Independence, Kan., formerly of this city, will be interested in learning of her marriage, May 15th, to Fred Pankhurst, of Niagara Falls. Mr. Pankhurst and his bride will spend the summer months at the former's summer home in the Allegheny Mountains. In the fall they will go to Niagara Falls, where they will make their home.

Mrs. C. W. Myers and Mrs. Charles Sullivan, will entertain the members of the Keola club at the home of Mrs. Myers on E. North-st., Thursday evening.

SUMMER FUR MYSTERY OUT!

They Wear 'Em to Hide "Lines Women Fear"

(By MARIAN HALE)

FURS are worn in midsummer purely for personal adornment. This is unnatural, wrong and should be stopped," says Dr. Henry Fairchild Osborne of the Museum of Natural History, New York.

"The fad is causing the best mammalian life to disappear. Legitimate use of furs for protection from cold has passed. Furs are a fashion now, just as feathers 30 years ago."

One of the most enthusiastic supporters of Dr. Osborne's beliefs is Minnie Madden Fiske.

Mrs. Fiske never wears furs, on the stage or off.

"They are not necessary," she contends. "In the coldest parts of Canada I have always been able to keep warm with sweaters, cloth and jersey garments."

THE summer fur is one of the feminine inconsistencies that always baffled the masculine mind.

Men associate fur with warmth, and imagine a woman wears a fur to keep warm. Of course, she doesn't. Not even in the winter.

As the furrier explained: "The line of madame's neck—it is very bad."

And madame knows it. She knows she has to be more beautifully built than most of us if she can permit her neck to emerge boldly and fearlessly from her coat collar or the low-cut line of her frock.

She needs something to soften the line and make a frame for her face. The fur does that.

Then, too, the shoulders have a way of being uneven or poorly matched, or too broad or too narrow. A well-manipulated fur conceals this.

Even in winter, women do not wear furs for warmth, but for beauty. That is why a woman may be valued in thousands of dollars worth of pelts, and wear the thinnest of silk hostery and satin slippers.

MORE than anything else a woman can invest in, furs look their value.

If a woman is wearing a chinchilla or sable cloak, every other woman who sees her knows several thousand dollars were expended on her. For a sable neckpiece, composed of two skins, sometimes a woman pays more than $2000. For her silver fox she may have spent any amount up to $1200.

KATHLENE MARTIN WEARING A TWO-SKIN SABLE SCARF MADE FOR SUMMER WEAR BY A. JAECKEL AND COMPANY, NEW YORK. THE SCARF IS VALUED AT $2200.

A good natural blue fox fur costs from $150 to $500.

But the money shows. It shows more than it possibly could in diamonds, pearls or lace. A woman's furs are a better indication of her husband's financial rating than his bank statement.

And they do conceal that line every woman fears!

Mrs. A. B. Gray and Mrs. E. N. Zettitz will be hostesses Thursday afternoon at the weekly bridge at the Shawnee Country club on Ladies' Day. Reservations should be made at the club. For further information call either of the hostesses.

JUNE, MONTH OF BRIDES, ROSES,
MAKES ITS BOW

Is Expected to Witness Many Brilliant Nuptial Events—Prominent Affairs of Past Week Were the Renz-Mohr and the Graff-Beniger Weddings

JUNE, the month of roses and brides, is unceasingly characterized by the union of many couples in matrimony. This is found especially true this season with many weddings of interest arranged for the fore part of the month.

One of the most prominent of the weddings was that celebrated on the first day of June when Miss Beatrice Katherine Renz, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob F. Renz, became the bride of Robert William Mohr, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mohr. The impressive ceremony took place in the evening at 6:30 o'clock at Zion Lutheran church. The Rev. Arthur H. Peffly officiated. A dinner dance, at the Elks' Home followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Mohr are touring thru the east and after June 17th, will reside in the apartments of the bride's parents.

Another marriage of interest was that of Monday morning at 7 o'clock in St. Rose church when Miss Geraldine Katherine Graff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Graff and Gerald Ashford Benigar, were united in marriage. Following the ceremony, Mr. Benigar and his bride left on a wedding trip thru the east and after the first of the week will be at home at 1026 Sixth-st., Lorain.

Miss Grace Shorner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Shearer, of W. North-st., and Earl Cochran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Cochran, of Harrison-av., were quietly united in marriage Saturday, May 27th. They are residing at the home of the bridegroom's parents, 318 Harrison-av., for the present.

Cotelet club met with Mrs. Clifford Stanner, of N. Scott-st., Thursday afternoon. The time was enjoyed socially and Mrs. Lester May favored with a reading. A dainty luncheon was served, the table appointments being carried out in pink and white. Guests were Mrs. Charles Smith and Miss Florence Slygh.

Next meeting will be held in two weeks with Mrs. Marion Reese, of N. Collett-st.

Missionary society of the First United Brethren church will meet at the home of Mrs. R. B. Ferguson, 1177 Rice-av., Wednesday at 2 p. m.

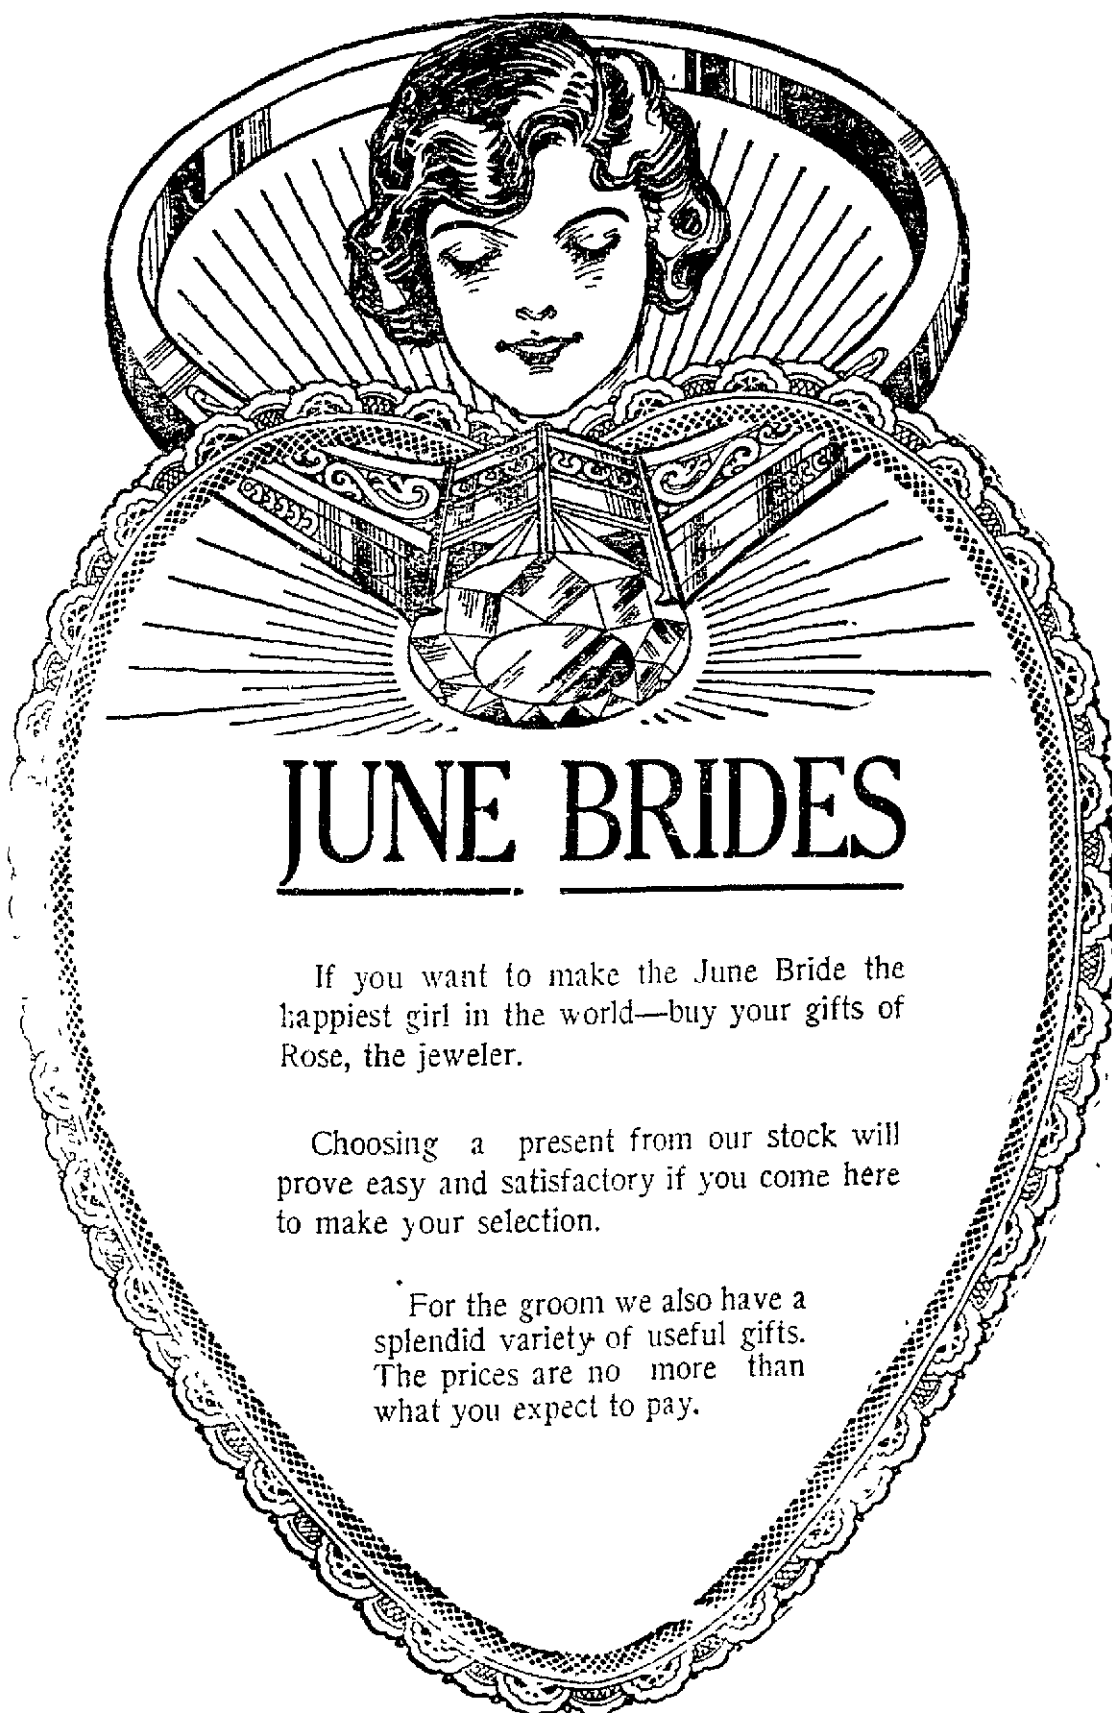

The Ladies' Aid of Bethany Lutheran church will meet with Mrs. George Bohn, of 409 N. Elizabeth-st., Wednesday afternoon.

Honoring Miss Adelle Schmitt, of Delphos, whose marriage to Hubert Wulffhorst, also of Delphos, will be an event of June 6th, Mrs. Arnold Schmelzer of W. Circular-st., welcomed the members of the M. O. B. club, of Delphos and a few guests at her home at a pleasant gathering Thursday evening. Cards were enjoyed thruout the evening and at a late hour a dainty repast was served by the hostess.

Guests included Misses Florence Ricker, Irene Stallkamp, Myrme Waisgerber, Altha Jettingshoff, Martha Klug and Leona Kalp, all of Delphos; Misses Betty Dugan, Eula Fisher and Mrs. Theoburn Bowdle, of this city and Miss Rhea Betters, of Ft. Wayne.

Odeveno club will meet with Mrs. Charles Martz, of S. McDowell-st. Tuesday afternoon.

OUR FIRST YEAR

BY A BRIDE

NEW CLOTHES

I went down to Jack's office. Later I've imagined that he doesn't like to have me drop in there every time I'm down town.

Anyway my checking account had to be fixed up. Jack figured up my stubs for me and asked me a few questions, and it proved that I was overdrawn on account of the down payment on that electrical sewing machine.

Of course Jack was perfectly lovely about going over to the bank to straighten things out for me, but I think he was almost too serious when he warned me.

"Better be careful, Peggins. Maybe I won't have the cash to fix you up, next time!"

In the bank lobby I stopped to talk a few minutes with Jessie Langdon. Her husband is in the office with Jack. He does the same kind of work. Jessie rather boasted that Bob Langdon had been doing a lot of business lately. Her story hurt me awfully, because I know Jack has sold very little insurance, not more than enough to justify his regular salary.

I resolved that I'd be awfully careful about spending until times improve.

Being down town that morning, I ran into Chadbourne's to pick out the pelts they were lending the Little Playhouse company for "Skoal".

I fell quite in love with one piece of fox, a beautiful soft gray, dyed of course, and the most becoming thing I ever put on. The clerk reminded me that furs are very much cheaper in midsummer than any other season and it really seemed a wise economy for me to buy the piece. I ordered it charged and sent, so Jack wouldn't have to worry about the bill for a while.

That night I was perfectly wild to show Jack how becoming gray fox is to me. But it turned out to be a hot evening and Jack looked decidedly fagged when he came home. So I put the scarf away. I'd surprise Jack when we started on the motor trip. A fox scarf would be just the thing for such a trip.

This purchase reminded I ought to foot up my bill. There were several milk had not intended to let cumulate; after I put the aside I had simply forgotten it until the middle of the Jack is so particular, that like to speak of it then, so it run over until the next bill; and there were two miller.

The latter reminded me must pick out a cross ha auto trip. I wanted one silk, it would be gay, and show the dust. And, if I would buy a scarf to match Jack loves to have me to and isn't it a girl's duty her husband every way she (To Be Continued)

LUNCHEON DISH THAT'S NEW--AND DELICIOUS

A luncheon dish that is new and will appeal to the most fastidious is so simple one wonders why it never was tried before.

Choose a large, smooth potato, longer than it is thick. Bake till done. Cut a slice off one side and scoop out the pulp. Mash and season with salt, pepper, butter and milk.

Beat till very light and keep hot. Break two eggs in the potato shell, being careful not to break the yolks. Cover the eggs with chopped ham.

Fill potato shell with mashed potato, piling it up above the top of the shell and piping it around the edge. Grate cheese over surface of the mashed potato. Put in a moderate oven for eight minutes to cook the eggs.

Increase the heat and brown the edges of the mashed potato. A smaller potato may be used and only one egg dropped in the shell.

Crab meat, flaked salmon, chopped chicken, tuna fish, chopped shrimp, flaked lobster or shredded freshened salt codfish can be used in place of ham.

The eggs are cooked soft as a cream sauce is not necessary, with the meat. The potato must be very soft and light when prepared for piping.

If a party bag and tube are not at hand, fold a piece of toilet paper in the shape of a cornucopia. Tear an opening in the pointed end. Fill with potato and press thru the ragged hole. The potato can be piped in tiny cone-shaped puffs or any little fancy edge.

Tomatoes can be used in the same way. Wash medium sized tomatoes and cut a slice from the stem end. Scoop out the pulp with a spoon. Put a thin layer of cooked rice or macaroni in the bottom of each tomato, add one egg, cover with chopped ham or fish and fill shell with rice or macaroni.

Rub the pulp thru a strainer and pour into tomato. Sprinkle top with grated cheese and bake ten minutes in a moderate oven.

If the tomatoes are baked in ramikins there is little difficulty in serving them.

A different kind of meat can be used in each potato or tomato. The eggs should be seasoned with salt and pepper and a bit of butter before the meat is added. If ham or a salt fish is used omit the salt in seasoning.

OHIO FEDERATION NEWS

(By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick)

Club women all over the country are turning their thoughts toward Chautauqua, New York, this month, for Chautauqua is to be the Mecca of the legions of club representatives who are to assemble there for the General biennial convention which will open June 22 and close June 30.

All club representatives must have identification certificates before they can receive one and one-half fare railroad rate; without them club women will be compelled to pay the full rail fare.

These certificates may be obtained by writing to Mrs. Albert F. Westgate, 1875 Belmont Road, Cleveland. It is imperative that she have the name and address of every woman to whom a certificate is issued in Ohio so that she can make the proper arrangements with the railroad companies.

It is announced that the Cleveland Automobile club will gladly furnish any information desired regarding good roads from any point in this state direct to Chautauqua. Maps will be supplied upon request.

Address, the Cleveland Automobile club, Hollenden hotel, Cleveland, with reference to good roads and maps. Write to Mrs. Westgate for information concerning the biennial meeting and arrangements at Chautauqua.

Plans for the sale of auto home plates for the centennial celebration in Marion, July 2, 3, 4 and 5, when President and Mrs. Harding are to attend, will be conducted by the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs. The sale will start June 8 and continue over June 10. It will be carried on very similar to the drives for the sale of Red Cross seals in the past, various clubs to be assigned to the work in different parts of the city. The cinema will be used extensively by the club women, the local theater owners having already granted them that privilege.

To supply milk for the undernourished children in the Kent public schools, the Kent Coterie, a club of 25, a short time ago gave a benefit dance and card party to raise the necessary funds. This undertaking was augmented by the plea from the Kent State Normal college that the students of its training school be included in the distribution of the much-needed milk. The Coterie generously decided to assume the additional responsibility. The affair was not only a financial success, but it was one of the most pleasing of the season. The sum of $603 was cleared—more than enough to buy milk for the indigent school children of Kent for the year. The Coterie is one of the most active clubs in Portage-co. Mrs. Roy H. Smith is president and Mrs. M. B. Spelman its secretary.

The Woman's club at Oberlin, with a membership of about 200 in its twenty-first year, has awakened deep interest among its members by the reading of plays, the literature department during the past year stressing particularly "The Little Theater Movement" in America. Spontaneous self-expression has been promoted to a high degree in consequence. Several plays were successfully presented. The work of the history and education departments has been correlated and joint meetings conducted once a month with a series of brilliant and interesting lectures on "International Relationships," by Dr. Ian C. Harnish, of the Graduate School of Theology. The club's school committee, thru a canvass of alumni, together with cooking-school lectures, a rummage sale and plays, raised more than $1,400 toward the equipment of the new high school building. The club conducts its meetings once a month and the departments meet every fortnight.

Dear Miss Smart: I AM a man 24 years of age. I have been engaged to a wonderful girl for almost a year. We have not announced our engagement as yet as we have reasons for wanting to keep it secret for a while. Now it happens that she goes out occasionally with other men. I do not think this is fair to me and yet I cannot make her understand since our engagement has not been announced. Will you please answer my letter and tell me what you think?

WORRIED.

ONE can scarcely censure you for resenting the fact that your fiancée accepts attentions from other men. An engaged girl does not usually care to receive attentions from men other than her fiancé.

Of course, she is really placed in somewhat of an embarrassing position. It is often very difficult for a girl to refuse attentions from others when it is not known that she is engaged.

The best way to put an end to this unsatisfactory situation is to announce the engagement. Surely the objections to this course are no more serious than the danger of breaking off the engagement entirely.

Dear Miss Smart: I have been in love with a girl for some time. I have actually worshipped her and only lately I learned that she is engaged to another man. She has not been unfaithful to him, as she has never accepted any attentions from me. I am actually crushed. Do you think it would be unfair for me to try to win her love?

IN DESPAIR.

Place yourself in the position of this girl's fiancé. You would not think it very fair nor pleasant if you were engaged to a girl and then have another man deliberately try to win her love.

There seems to be little chance of your winning her since she has promised herself in marriage to another. If she loves him, and certainly her engagement is proof of that, she would not care to have you offer further attentions. It is not generally considered the fair thing for a man to attempt to break up an engagement.

PARASOLS

Parasols have developed into something exceedingly ornate. Some of them have ruffles of silk or bead fringe a yard long introduced on the edge so that the figure of the person carrying one of them is almost concealed.

BRILLIANT WORK IN SILVER SHEET CIRCLES IS PROMISED FOR THE WEEK

TREAT FOR LOVERS OF THE DRAMA

Mary Pickford's "Little Lord Fauntleroy" Opens Today, For a Week's Run

All Theatres Announce Programs of Par Excellence—Comedies Listed, Too

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)

DISCIPLES of the silver sheet and lovers of the drama are assured of a brilliant week in local picture houses, for every single program, without exception, heralds productions of unusual favor.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy," Mary Pickford's production which has suffered some delay in reaching our fair city, enters upon a week's engagement today at the Lyric theatre. This is one of the year's most remarkable photoplays and should hold an important place on your list of pictures to see.

"Reported Missing," the comedy-drama which all New York is still talking about, opens a limited engagement at the Quilna theatre. Owen Moore heads the eminent cast, with Nita Naldi as one of the leading characters.

The Sigma announces a program par excellence, opening today with "R. S. V. P.," Rob Wagner's original comedy-drama with Charles Ray in the stellar role. And on the same program appears Buster Keaton, the frozen-faced comedian, in "The Paleface," a riotous comedy, if ever there was one.

"Alias Ladyfingers," a thrilling crook drama, arrives on Wednesday to spend two days at the Sigma. Bert Lytell is the deft safecracker, and is delightful in his role. For the last two days of the week, the Sigma offers "B's of Life," Marshall Neilan's new release, with a host of stars and favorites.

Doris May, one of the newest players to achieve the rank of star, is well cast in a charming little comedy-drama "The Foolish Age," which ends its engagement today at the Fauror Opera House. Miss May has the able support of Hallam Cooley, Bull Montana and scores of others.

Elnore Hammerstein, the charming Selznick star, is scheduled to appear at the Quilna the latter part of the week in "Why Announce Your Marriage?" In support of Miss Hammerstein is Niles Welch.

The Majestic offers patrons, for today and Monday, Cecil DeMille's magnificent photodrama "Forbidden Fruit," while on Tuesday Ethel Clayton will appear in "The Price of Possession."

The Lyric Pictures

THE thing that will probably interest the public most about Mary Pickford's "Little Lord Fauntleroy," coming to the Lyric theatre today as the feature attraction, is not so much the fact that she plays a dual role in this picture as that she takes the part of a boy.

Little Mary has played a dual role before—in "Stella Maris"—but this will be the first time she has ever appeared as a boy throughout an entire photoplay. While it is true that she has worn masculine garb in some of her previous productions, she did so as a girl masquerading as a boy for the moment only. But in her film version of Frances Hodgson Burnett's great story, Miss Pickford is constantly on the screen as Little Lord Fauntleroy or as his mother.

In fact, much of the time she is there both as the mother and the little lord, all by the aid of cleverly devised double exposure work of the cameraman, Charles Rosher.

"There are many features," says Mr. Settos, manager of the Lyric, "that indicate this not only is Mary Pickford's greatest photoplay but one of the most remarkable film plays ever shown. Without a doubt it is the most appealing story ever screened. It is rich in color and human interest. We see Mary depicting a Fauntleroy who is all boy despite his curls, spotted collars and handsome velvet suits. For a dressed-up boy, he certainly does get powerfully mussed up at times, much to the amusement of his stern old grandfather and to the chagrin of his idolizing mother."

The work Miss Pickford does in the dual role is said to be by far the best of her career. Her sympathetic interpretation of the mother part is a startling contrast against her portrayal of the boisterous, mischievous and exuberant boy. It hardly seems possible, according to members of the theatre staff who have viewed the film, that these two widely different characterizations could be assumed by one and the same person.

The production opens a week's engagement today at the Lyric theatre.

The Quilna Pictures

THE Quilna theatre makes a temporary departure from its policy of showing Paramount Pictures this week, taking advantage of an opportunity to give its patrons two pictures that have recently scored such popular success as to attract the attention of the entire country.

"Reported Missing," which opens an engagement this afternoon at the Quilna presents a new production which New York critics pronounce one of the cleanest, brightest and best bits of entertainment the screen has had in some time. It is a rapid-fire comedy-drama, directed by Henry Lehrman and starring Owen Moore. It is hailed as just the type of picture the public is looking for—full of laughs, thrills and legitimate excitement, with every foot of the seven reels worth while. Even the titles are a feature of the production, being the joint work of about a dozen of New York's most prominent newspaper writers, with one of their number selected for umpire.

Moore plays the role of a wealthy youngster who has more money than brains and who has led a life that has been entirely along the primrose path. To please the girl he wants to marry he consents to the purchase of a shipping fleet from the government, but the Japanese shipping trust is also planning to lay their hands on the ships.

So their agent plots to get the young man out of the way until his option expires. From this point the thrills start. The young man is shanghaied and placed aboard a yacht, the yacht is wrecked, he is rescued by a battleship, and atop of that Moore starts off in a hydroplane for a chase after a scoundrel in which the Japanese conspirator is running off with the girl. These exciting incidents are accompanied by comedy that brings howl after howl of laughter from the audience. Lehrman is a past master of comedy direction and he has taken the melodramatic plot and dressed it with all the laughs that one could wish for.

Owen Moore achieves his greatest success in this picture and the cast is not far behind him in keeping the audience keyed up to a high pitch of excitement and glee. Indeed Tom Wilson, who plays a colored servant, comes near to running off with the stellar honors of the film, and Pauline Garon, Robert Cain, Nita Naldi, Togo Yamamoto, Frank Wunderlee all contribute markedly to the huge success that the picture has achieved.

"Reported Missing" will be accompanied at the Quilna by a fresh edition of the Quilna News, new Aesop Fables and Robert C. Bruce's scenic gem, "Unknown Switzerland." It is a great program all thru and you'll agree that the principal feature is one of the best things of the year.

For the week end the Fauror will offer Elnore Hammerstein in her most brilliant success, "Why Announce Your Marriage?" This is another comedy, but its merry incidents are laid in Greenwich Village and a fashionable Long Island summer resort. Besides Miss Hammerstein, who will win your entire approbation in the leading role, the principals of the cast are Niles Welch, Florence Billings, Frank Currier and Arthur Houseman. The latter contributes an original characterization that is about the most comical hit you have seen in years.

"Why Announce Your Marriage?" is smart in fun, smart in settings and smartly played. It will be accompanied at the Quilna by a new edition of the Quilna News, the Pathe Review, Topics of the Day and Robert C. Bruce's latest wilderness tale, "My Country."

"The Love of Su Shong" WHEN one recalls the popularity of the Fay Bainter play "East is West," and then reminded that "The Love of Su Shong" which the Mabel Brownell Players will offer next week, is rated as equally as novel and entertaining, one can well be justified in the assertion that the management is sparing neither pains nor expense to give its patrons the best that the play market affords. The play opens today at the Victory theatre Dayton.

"The Love of Su Shong" is a beautiful romance of China, dealing with the love of a young American tourist for a pretty Chinese girl whom he encountered in a most accidental way.

The wealthy young tourist finds that the pathway of love in China is not strewn with roses and that cusoms which prevail in America decidedly do not prevail in China. He learns incidentally that "Su Shong," the girl of his heart, is sought after by no less than four suitors, one of whom holds a secret of her father that would mean death to him; and, incidentally, he learns that there are others who are willing to pay a price for the girl, for they do sell them in China.

This naturally evolves some melodramatic incidents, for a real American generally gets what he goes after, even to the extent of battling for it.

This makes a most entertaining combination of laughs and thrills with a fight or two that is a whale. Incidentally the play reveals a number of hitherto unknown Chinese customs, but nevertheless authentic, for the author DeWitt Newling, spent three years in China and did not have to create fictional scenes and incidents.

And regarding the comedy half of the Sigma's program today, it is heralded as one of the most ludicrous and mirthful comedies which Buster Keaton has ever made. Out of a plot that contains more story value than most comedies can boast, Buster has evolved a bucketful of new stunts and laughs. He's seen as a butterfly hunting biologist who invades the reservation of a tribe of Redskins, just as the braves have decided to kill the next paleface that comes along. How Buster escapes is one of the most amusing things ever done on the silver sheet, adding another to the droll comedians' list of successful comedies.

Starting on Wednesday and continuing for two days, the Sigma offers Bert Lytell in "Alias Ladyfingers," the dramatic story of a young crook with hands as deft as a woman's. Ora Carew plays the leading feminine role.

On Friday and Saturday, the Sigma's program is featured by Marshall Neilan's "Bite of Life," starring such notables as Wesley Barry, Lon Chaney, John Bowers, Noah Beery, Rockliffe Fellows and Harriet Hammond. The picture ranks as one of the year's most satisfactory film features.

The Sigma Pictures

THREE meritorious photoplay attractions are announced for the current week at the Sigma theatre, opening today with a First National special, "R. S. V. P." starring Charles Ray. Besides the feature, the Sunday program features a new Buster Keaton fun-film, "The Paleface."

In this picture, Charlie devotes somewhat from his usual role of a struggling, immature youth, and blossoms forth into an artist who positively refuses to accept a penny from indulgent relatives until he has demonstrated that he can stand on his own feet. There's many a laughable situation in the plot, with Harry Myers, whom you will remember for his splendid work in "A Connecticut Yankee," in every one of them.

Of course, there's a love story, in which Miss Jean Calhoun makes her debut as a leading lady. Others in the cast include Tom McGuire, Robert Gret and William Courtright.

Rob Wagner, noted for his stories in the Saturday Evening Post, wrote the story which is an original for Charlie.

And regarding the comedy half of the Sigma's program today, it is heralded as one of the most ludicrous and mirthful comedies which Buster Keaton has ever made. Out of a plot that contains more story value than most comedies can boast, Buster has evolved a bucketful of new stunts and laughs. PRODUCERS ANNOUNCE IMPOSING LIST OF RELEASES FOR THE SCREEN

RENOWNED STARS ON PROGRAMS

Special Attractions Arranged, Some of Which Have Been Released for Showing

Plays by Tully, Morosco, Walsh and Others Planned. With Artists in Casts

In an effort to meet the insistent public demand for "better motion picture entertainment," independent producers have announced a list of new photoplays, that, from all appearances, eclipses any season's program yet offered in point of interest and audience appeal.

These special attractions in which many of the most notable stars of stage and screen will appear, are made possible, according to the announcement, because of the sincere effort of stars, directors and producers to obtain close cooperation with the theatre in order to gain a clear idea of the public taste in screen entertainment.

Included in this ambitious list are three attractions in which appears Norma Talmadge. The first, "Smile Through," a remarkable adaptation of the stage play of the same title, already has been released. The second, "The Eternal Flame," is a romantic French drama, adapted from the story of Honore Balzac. It was directed by Frank Lloyd. Miss Talmadge's third effort, now in preparation, is an adaptation of the stage success, "The Mirage."

Richard Walton Tully, after achieving remarkable success as a producer of high class stage plays, has entered the motion picture field and will release "The Masquerader," with Guy Bates Post and "Omar the Tentmaker" within a short time. Another successful producer of stage successes who is to release motion picture adaptations of his most noted plays, is Oliver Morosco, whose first releases are announced as "Singsy McGee," and "The Halt and Catch Fire." Appearing in these productions as featured players are Coleman Moore, Wheeler Oakman and Al O'Malley.

Important in the inspiring list are the following coming attractions: "Kindred of the Dust," an adaptation of the famous novel by Peter B. Kyne, produced by R. A. Walsh; "The Clear Call," an adaptation of the novel by Francis Nimmo Greene, directed by John M. Stahl, and featuring Henry B. Walthall, Claire Windsor and Milton Sills; Marshall Neilan's "Fool's First," from the Hugh McNair Kahler story in the Saturday Evening Post, featuring Claire Windsor and Richard Dix; Maurice Tourneur's screen production of "Lorna Doone," featuring Madge Bellamy, Frank Keenan and John Bowers; Mack Sennett's remarkable dramatic productions following "Mickie" and "Molly O" for early release are announced as "The Crossroads of New York" and "Suzanna," the latter of which features Mabel Normand.

Richard Barthelmess, who scored heavily in "Tolable David" will appear in "The Seventh Day," "Sonny" and "The Bond Boy." Jackie Coogan, diminutive star whose work in "The Kid," "Peck's Bad Boy" and "My Boy" endeared him to film fans everywhere, is to have for his newest vehicles "Trouble" and an elaborate screen adaptation of Dickens' "Oliver Twist." Hope Hampton, who won high praise in the adaptation of Fannie Hurst's "Star Dust" will have for her next photoplay "The Light in the Dark" to be followed by "The Isle of Dead Ships." Constance Talmadge in "The Primitive Lover" and "East Is West," Katherine MacDonald in a series of new subjects, "The Infidel," "Domestic Relations," "Heroes and Husbands," "White Shoulders" and "The Woman Conquers," Anita Stewart in "The Woman He Married" and "Rose O' The Sea."

Besides these and other dramatic productions, it is announced that the high quality of the comedians established by Charles Chaplin, Buster Keaton, Ben Turpin and Mack Sennett productions will be preserved in forthcoming releases of these mirth-makers.

As usual Chaplin's forthcoming releases on which he now is working, will not be announced until the subjects have been completed. Buster Keaton's newest efforts are known by the following titles "My Wife's Relations," "The Frozen North," "The Blacksmith" and "The Electric House."

Some of the newer Mack Sennett comedy offerings are as follows: Ben Turpin in "Step Forward," Billy Bevan in "Gymnasium Jim," Ben Turpin in "The Frozen Trail" and Billy Bevan in "Oh Daddy."

when "Forbidden Fruit" opens today at the Majestic theatre his admirers are promised a new solution to the ever present matrimonial triangle.

In this new De Mille production, the rare combination of imaginative artist and realist has given the screen another masterpiece. Agnes Ayres has the role of a disillusioned young wife who is forced by the revelation of the real character of her rascally husband to seek asylum in the home of a wealthy society matron. There she meets the man who brings love and happiness to her. Clarence Burton, Theodore Roberts and Kathryn Williams figure prominently in the cast which also includes Bertram Johns, Forrest Stanley, Theodore Kosloff, Shannon Day and Julia Fay.

The Love Nest on the Seine

Near Fontainebleau, in France, stands to-day a honeymoon chateau, awaiting a bride and groom that will never arrive. Ten servants are within and about, to welcome and to serve. But Max E. Burton, who recently returned from his happy journey, buying and furnishing the chateau, will probably never see it again. The bride-to-have been, Charlotte Gardner Demarest, married Count Zichy on the eve of the day when she was to have married Burton.

Others appear to favor the "keep 'em guessing" jilt. Thus, while Miss Mary Millicent Rogers, who inherited a $20,000,000 trust fund on the death of her grandfather, H. H. Rogers, of Standard Oil fame, called off her wedding to James Thompson, New York clubman, she left him hope.

Mary Millicent trotted off to England. Rumors floated back that she was betrothed to a British peer. But, if she was, she must have jilted him, too. Because she's back in the States now and Mr. Thompson once more is fluttering around and about.

Another New York heiress, Miss Charlotte Gardner Demarest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Demarest, jilted with flourish. She not only discarded her fiancé on their wedding eve, but she eloped with his supposedly vanquished rival, Count Edward George Zichy.

The Count, scion of the noble Hungarian house of Bela, came over to America to restore the family fortune, which the war had dented considerably. He tried selling automobiles and selling insurance, and then he became host at a dancing club at the Hotel Vanderbilt. Two years ago, at fashionable Southampton, Long Island, he met Miss Demarest.

The Count proposed. But Miss Demarest shook her pretty dark curls. She was going to marry George Burton, who inherited a few millions from his father, the brewer, whose name was Max E. Bernheimer and whose son changed his own name to Burton. The Count received the blow philosophically; perhaps he had already noticed that, in gay America, there was many a slip 'twixt the solitary and the little platinum band.

The Burton-Demarest engagement was

JILT—to fire, can, hand him the razz, give him the air." To that definition, as it appears in the Flapper's Dictionary, has been added another, "She did a Demarest," or "She pulled a Mary Landon Baker." In other words—she was stylish!

For that is what jilting has become—stylish. Metropolitan society is positively crowded with sad-eyed young men who were left waiting at the church by beautiful young ladies. The mails are full of pickle forks and bonbon dishes going back whence they came. Messenger boys are getting round-shouldered returning cut-glass bowls to their donors.

Mary Landon Baker, the Chicago heiress, started the fashion when she "renege" on young Allister McCormick—three times at home and once abroad—after she'd bought her trousseaux and he had the tickets and everything. "It's just postponed!" said the lady—but society credited her with four jilts.

New York debutantes, not to be outdone by their Illinois cousins, entered Miss Grace B. Rogers in the jilting bee. Everybody in the Blue Book was all set to attend her marriage to Paul B. Tubby, of exclusive Greenwich, Conn., when the postmen distributed little cards that read:

"Mr. and Mrs. Noah Cornwell Rogers beg to inform you that the engagement of their daughter, Grace Burnham, to Mr. Tubby has been terminated by mutual consent, and the wedding gift which you sent her is therefore returned by her with grateful appreciation of your kindness."

Pacific Coast buds immediately caught the idea. When handsome young Whitney Warren, Jr., of Park avenue and Newport, went West for a bride, some people snickered and remarked that Whitney was too smart to be caught in the Eastern jilting epidemic.

But they underestimated the speed of California girls. Whitney was to marry Miss Geraldine Graham, daughter of the Los Angeles oil prince, William Miller Graham. The Prince of Wales, on his visit to America, picked her out as "the perfect American beauty." He might have added that she was extremely up-to-date.

For Miss Graham "broke it off" with Whitney at the eleventh hour, thus proving she was as absolutely up-to-date as any Fifth Avenue bud.

Some society jilts jilt finally and forever.

announced. The date was set. Miss Demarest had tried on the last gown of her trousseau. The invitations were out. Wedding presents were pouring by the hundred into the Demarest home on upper Fifth avenue. Six bride's maids were terribly excited. Six groomsmen were a little nervous. Miss Demarest alone was cool.

"I'm going out for a walk," she told her mother on the morning of the wedding day. When she returned a few hours later, Count Zichy was with her. "Mother!" announced the girl. "We're married!"

Mrs. Demarest was prostrated. Mr. Demarest recovered sufficiently to give the pair his blessing as they started on the honeymoon. When somebody broke the news to the jilted Mr. Burton, he could only say:

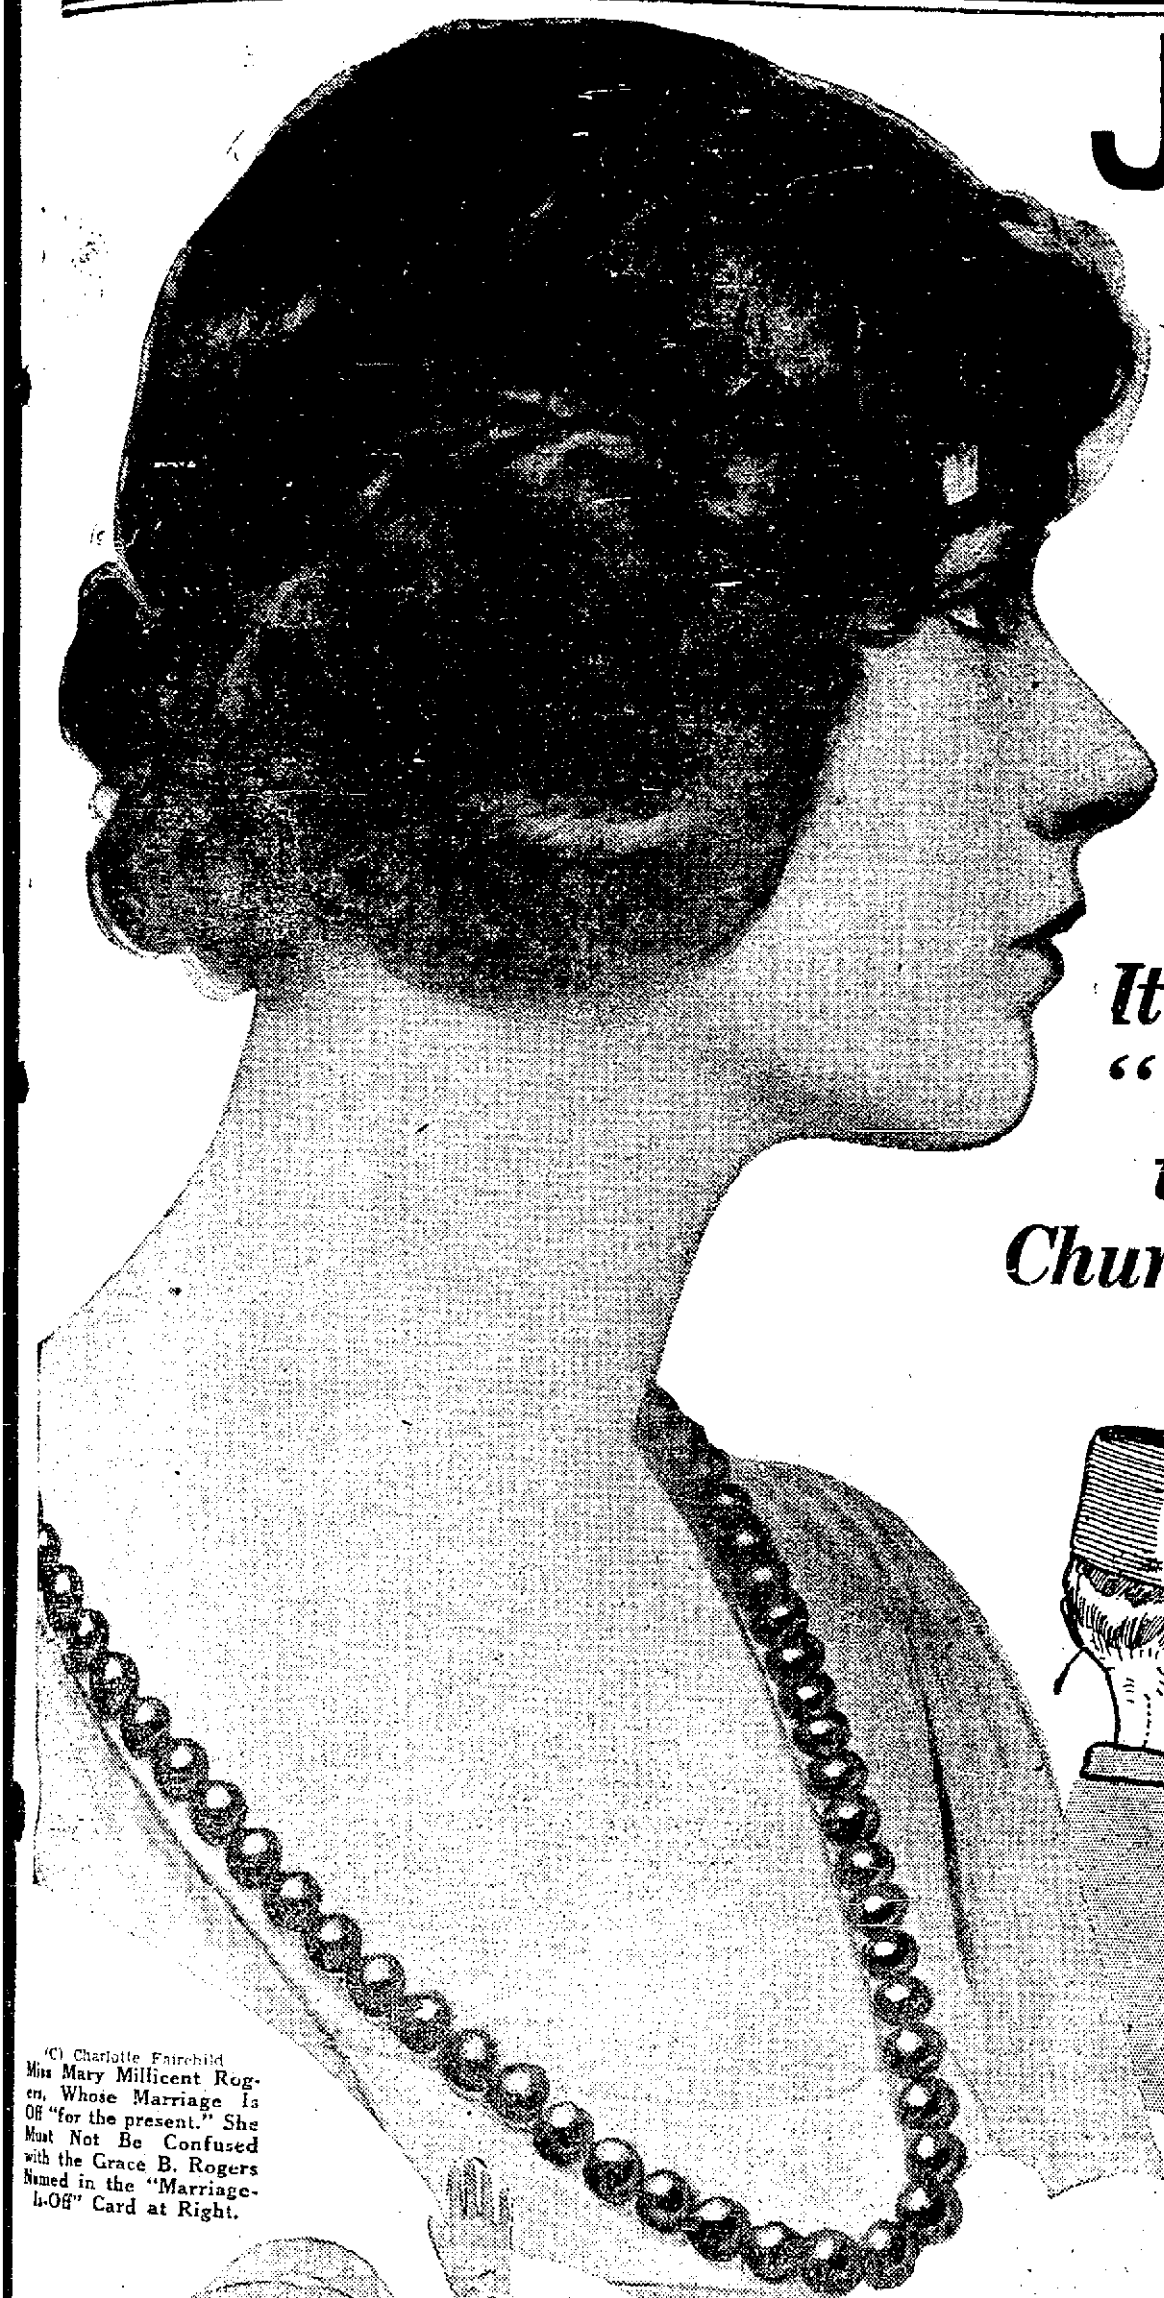

"Hells bells! Yes, indeed. Hells bells!" But Boston produced the record-breaking jilt of the season. One young man, engaged to a certain debutante, confessed his happiness—privately—to another young man. "Why, I'm engaged to her myself!" was the startling reply. Cautious inquiries developed that two more young men considered themselves equally fortunate. The quartet, in a body, demanded an explanation. "Mean things!" cried the debutante.

And she jilted all four—gloriously!

Miss Charlotte Gardner Demarest Not Only Jilted George Burton, Was by Brewer's Son, on Their Wedding Eve, but She Emphasized It by Eloping with His Supposedly Vanquished Rival, Count Edward George Zichy.

Miss Geraldine Graham, Daughter of the Los Angeles Oil Prince, Was Called "the Perfect American Beauty" by the Prince of Wales. Then, at the Very Eleventh Hour She Cancelled the Wedding Date She Had Made with Handsome Whitney Warren, Jr.

His Royal Highness Has Been Reported Engaged to Rachel Cavendish, Daughter of the Rich Duke of Devonshire.

LONDON.

THE Prince of Wales may be able to struggle along—and stay single—on the allowance granted him by Parliament, plus the rich revenue he draws from his Duchy of Cornwall. But his little brother, the Duke of York, who isn't nearly so well off, is having difficulty in keeping up appearances on only $50,000 a year.

That's why, according to his intimates, he's got to get married right away. When the London newspapers reported that his engagement to Lady Rachel Cavendish soon would be formally announced, they called it a "love match." Whereupon society smiled and remarked that the Duke is singularly fortunate in losing his heart exactly where he did.

For Lady Rachel Cavendish is the daughter of the Duke of Devonshire, former Governor-General of Canada, and the Duke of Devonshire is one of the richest men in the British Empire. He owns 186,000 acres of land, and when his daughter marries, she will present her husband with a bountiful dowry.

Londoners familiar with court gossip were not surprised by the news that the Duke of York will wed an heiress. They have been expecting such an announcement for the past two years, ever since the Duke went to live with the Prince of Wales in an extensive bachelor establishment, where the brothers share expenses "fifty-fifty."

Edward, the Prince, and Albert, the Duke, are twenty-eight and twenty-seven years old, respectively. The former went to Oxford, the latter to Cambridge. The Prince was in the army on the Western front, the Duke served in the navy at the battle of Jutland. Both are good-looking and charming, and each is a bit of a blade, with the average young man's desire to be a good spender in addition to the heavy financial obligations of royalty.

The Prince, however, is much better able to keep pace with the cost of living. His allowance from the government is larger than the Duke's, as befits the first-born. He is Earl of Chester, Duke of Cornwall, Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick and Baron of Renfrew. From each of these estates he derives an income. Cornwall alone—the oldest earldom in England, first created for Edward the Black Prince—yields him something like $100,000 a year.

The Duke, on the other hand, has nothing save his Parliamentary grant of 10,000 pounds a year. He is, as standards go in his set, something less than well to do. So long as he lived with his royal parents at Buckingham Palace and Windsor Castle, this was ample for his needs.

But Albert, like many another young man, chafed at sticking so close to the family hearth. King's sons sometimes keep just as late hours as commoners. The latter have latchkeys. But when the Duke of York taxied home at 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning, it meant rousing the guard, rattling the gates, waking any number of people, causing entirely too much commotion.

"Come over and share my digs with me," suggested the Prince of Wales, who had found family life palling some time ago and had removed himself and his entourage to York House, St. James's Court. Here, in a rambling, old-fashioned mansion of many rooms, massive walls, convenient entrances and exits, he had installed himself and his secretaries, his business advisor, his valet, butlers, chauffeurs and other servants.

"Thanks," replied the Duke of York. "We'll go, as the Americans say, fifty-fifty."

It wasn't long before the bachelor retreat of the brothers became the scene of many elaborate formal functions and still more smaller—but gayer—parties. Both the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York are extremely popular personally in court society. They are good dancers, good fellows, good spenders. Unlike some historic princes, they refuse to accept financial favors from sycophants. They "pay their own way," and the way they travel is rather expensive.

Fifty thousand a year does not go far when one must split the cost of a $1,500 or $2,000 reception; when the wine bill at a single dinner party for ten is $200; when such little parties are being staged every week or so; when one goes to motors and yachts and hunts; when one's wardrobe must include, in addition to the usual civilian clothes, a variety of uniforms and court costumes donned perhaps only once a year.

Court gossips began to notice that the Duke of York absented himself frequently from his elder brother's entertainments. The Prince of Wales kept up his membership in five exclusive clubs; the Duke belonged to only one.

Then came the American tour of the Prince and, after that, his trip to the Orient. He still "stood his share" of the upkeep of the bachelor domain, but the brunt of entertaining fell fully on his younger brother's shoulders—and his bank account.

It was about that time the Duke of York began to pay assiduous attention to the American heiress, Grace Vanderbilt, daughter of General Cornelius Vanderbilt. A match was generally predicted. The English public looked on without favor on an American alliance, but—rumors came to nothing when Mrs. Vanderbilt sailed back to America with her daughter.

Marlborough.

Gossip next linked the Duke of York's name to two more heiresses—Lady Elizabeth Angela Bowes-Lyon, daughter of the very wealthy Earl of Strathmore and a bride's maid at Princess Mary's wedding to Viscount Lascelles; and Lady Mary Sibell Ashley, daughter of the Earl of Shaftesbury and one of the ladies-in-waiting to the Queen. His name then was linked with that of Princess Helena of Roumania. But these courtships—if courtships they were—led to nothing more definite than chatter.

Last Summer the Duke of York paid open court to the richest heiress in all England, Miss Edwina Ashley. She is the granddaughter of Sir Edward Cassell, who was financial advisor to the late King Edward, and who left her on his death last year one of the most gigantic fortunes in the world. Viscount Lascelles, Princess Mary's husband, has an income from $10,000,000, but Edwina Ashley's riches are said to top that figure five times.

But, just as London had about decided the wooing of the Duke was to unite royalty and the Cassell millions, Miss Ashley's engagement was announced to young Lord Louis Mountbatten, the twenty-two-year-old son of the Marquis of Milford Haven, and, like the Duke of York, a great grandson of Queen Victoria. He had accompanied the Prince of Wales on his Indian trip, and there Miss Ashley was present at many of the glittering functions in honor of the Prince.

Since the Duke's choice of Lady Rachel Cavendish has been broadcasted in the London press, the gossips have turned to another interesting speculation: What will the Prince of Wales do in the event his brother marries and thus disrupts their bachelor household? Will the end of their "fifty-fifty" arrangement prove embarrassing to the Prince? And will he follow his brother's example and pick another heiress bride?

Girl Athletes Headed For Sex Extinction Says Scientist

"Sensational" Suzanne Lenglen, the Spectacular French Tennis Champion Whose Nervous Collapse Was Attributed to "Too Much Strenuousness."

And Here,
Photographically
Illustrated, Are
Some of the 1922
"Perils" Which
Biologists Now
Declare Are "Making
Champions and Destroying Mothers"

JUST as American girls are taking to strenuous sports with all the vim of their brothers on diamond and gridiron, the warning is flashed from England, "Pull up! You are heading for sex extinction!"

Just as American educators are encouraging athletics in girls' schools as enthusiastically as in boys', British biologists explode this bombshell, "Stop! You are breeding a neuter sex, neither male nor female; you are destroying mothers when you make champions!"

Heads of such institutions as Vassar, Smith, Wellesley, Barnard and a thousand lesser institutions throughout the United States are frankly flabbergasted. Their and substantiated by their scientific investigations, what we had merely suspected, that we are actually producing men-women—women in whom the male element is over-developed.

Girls, declares Miss Bennell, do not naturally desire strenuous games. They are shy and dreamy at that age. But they are "shamed into sports." Many become teachers and train other "grenadiers in petticoats."

Miss Bennell, Dr. Williams and their associates on the Committee for the Prohibition of Girls' Games are proceeding on the assumption that there is a fundamental difference in the physical makeup of man and woman—that girls can be taught to be healthy without blindly imitating the games of men and boys. They do not ban all sports, only those which divert energy from the creative organs to the muscles.

Their campaign has not been all smooth sailing. A number of prominent Englishwomen have taken up the cudgels for the other side. One of these, Dr. Letitia Fairchild, who was woman medical director of the Royal Air Force during the war, disagrees with the biologists.

"Give us proofs!" she cries, "not unsubstantiated statements. It is ridiculous to say that child-birth is often rendered difficult for women who have played games. Every doctor knows that certain muscles are involved when a baby is born that are strengthened, not weakened, by games. So many factors are responsible for sterility that it is impossible to attribute that to games."

"Women have ridden horseback for centuries, and their children have not been affected. You have only to look at the middle-class, middle-aged woman who has played similar games, and compare her to a woman of similar age belonging to the working class, and you will see how games have benefited her."

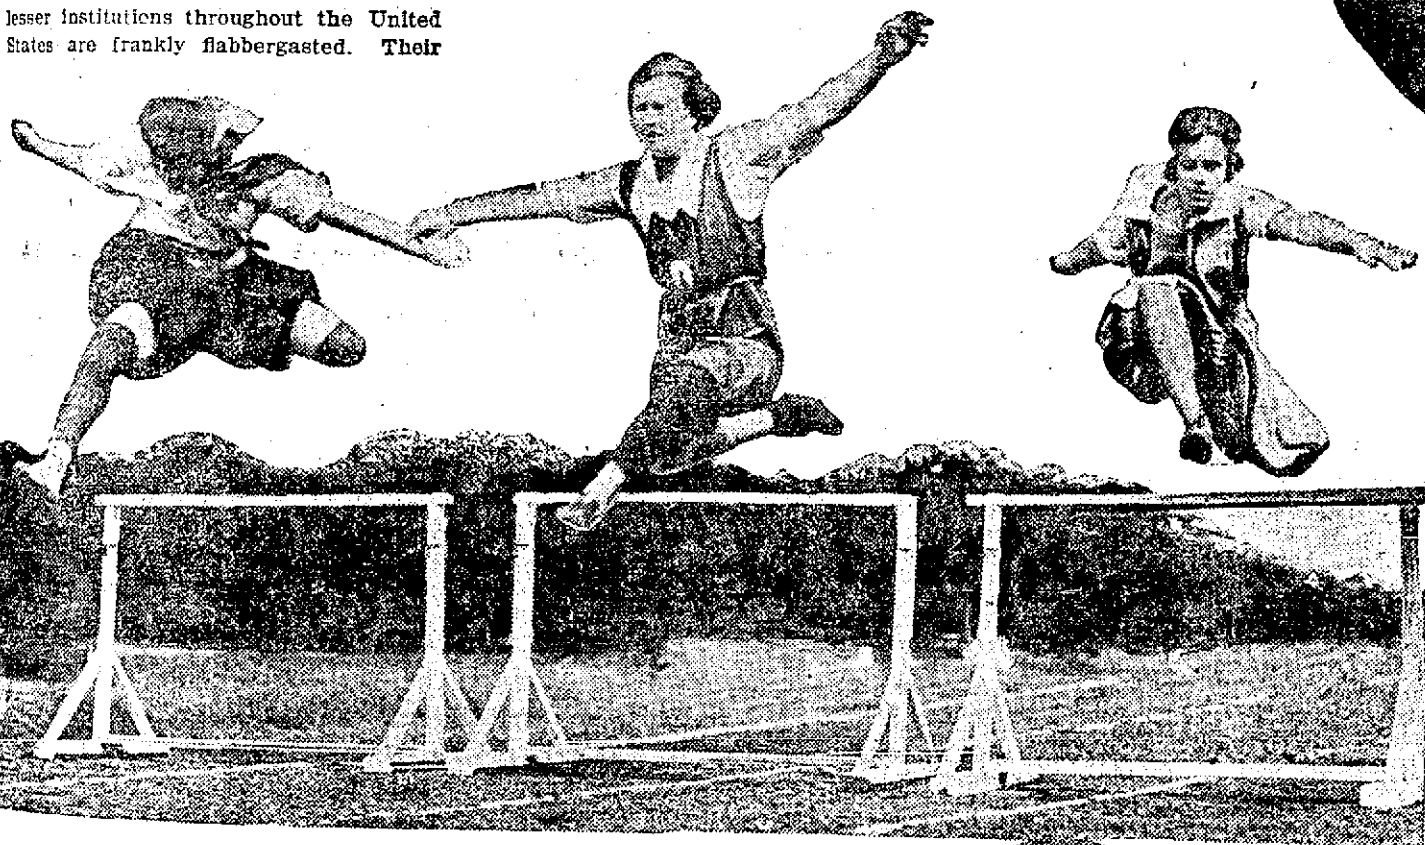

Women athletes themselves have greeted the Games Prohibitionists with sorts of indignation and disdain. At the recent Women's Olympiad at Monte Carlo, competed in by champions from a score of countries, resolutions were adopted deploring the outcry against women's sports.

"Training for sports will make you feel fit," declared Miss Mary Lines, winner of the 250 metre flat race and the long jump. "It is nonsense to say swimming isn't good for girls—why, it made me healthy when I was puny!" asserted Miss Doris Hart, winner of the 200 metres breast stroke.

"It certainly makes women stronger," agreed Mrs. Lucy Kitterer Harland. "Swimming developed me into a fine, healthy woman." was the testimony of Mrs. Olive Matthews (nee Olive Carson), "and I have a strong, healthy boy three and a half years old!" she added.

That American scientists, physicians and educators, already keenly interested, will be drawn actively into the "third sex" controversy, is indicated by the London committee, which proposes to extend its researches to this country.

What a survey of girl athletes in the United States will show remains to be seen. In the meantime, college authorities in many cities are debating the subject, "Do sports for women do harm or good? Will they develop strong, healthy mothers, or will they lead to a third sex, neither man nor woman?"

Neck and Neck Over the Hurdles. Miss Florence Baston, (Centre) of Rosemary Hall, Winning the 60-Yard Event at the Mamaroneck Interstate Meet for Girls' College Athletes.

get theories are being twisted topsy-turvy, they may have to revolutionize their entire scheme of physical education.

All of them boast gymnastics. All insist on exercise for their students. Most of them have basketball, track and hockey teams. Many have introduced football and baseball for girls. The new girl athlete is the type of the hour. Everywhere girls are being converted to boys' games. They themselves are "crazy" about sports. They ride, fence, row, swim, golf; they yell for their teams; they enter inter-school contests; they break records; they strive for muscular development.

In the face of this universal movement is flung this sudden declaration from English educators and men of science:

"Unless there are speedy and fundamental changes in the prevailing system of physical education for the modern girl, the female sex will become extinct as such. In a generation or so, it will not exist, and instead we will have a sort of 'man-woman'—a distinct third sex."

These are the words of George Chalmer, secretary of the committee formed in London by the British Medical Association, the Royal College of Surgeons and Physicians, and the British Medical Women's Association, for the avowed purpose of combating strenuous sports for girls.

The committee sent out questionnaires to leading medical authorities, heads of girls' schools and heads of hospitals, asking for their observations on the training of girls. Nineteenth of the replies denounced such sports for women as football, swimming, rowing and lacrosse.

Doctors declared that such games impair the functions of motherhood and later years. Eminent biologists asserted that women athletes spend all their "capital" and consequently are producing "an emasculated race of men." Champion women athletes are often sterile, they said; moreover, women athletes take on masculine traits to the point where the feminine in them is all but crushed out.

"Biologists have long recognized the existence of the 'third sex' as a social factor to be reckoned with," wrote Dr. Leonard Williams, distinguished biologist associated with Professor Julian Huxley in his investigations. "They have long viewed with alarm the increase in the ranks of these 'human deviations' created by our modern ideas about the physical education of girls."

Dr. Williams went on to explain why athletics bring about a "third sex." Nature, he said, apportions to each human being only a certain amount of energy. At the age of adolescence this energy is distributed to the various organs of the body according to sex and the different requirements of the sexes. Until this age is reached sex is neuter. Boys and girls under the age of adolescence are, scientifically speaking, neither male nor female, but simply children without sex distinction.

"When a girl reaches the age of adolescence," continued Dr. Williams, "she lapses naturally into a state of inactivity, for the simple reason that nature is diverting most of her energy to the creative organism. What precisely happens when we thrust girls into a whirl of exhaustive games like football and hockey, is that their energy is unnaturally diverted from the natural channel and spent in sport. The result, inevitably, is a sterile woman, developing all the male characteristics in her composition; or, at best, a woman producing weedy, sickly children."

Another description of the "third sex" is given by Miss M. Bennell, a distinguished British educator, who says the "man-woman" is "physically like a Grenadier in petticoats; she is a dangerous abnormality. For several years we have watched the rapid development of this unhappy and curious creature. We classified the type as 'men-women,' and dismissed them from our minds as the unlovely specimens of a misapplied physical training. The biologists, however, have awakened us to the gravity of this new entity in our social life. They discovered,

Home Owning Breeds Real Man

It is what puts the MAN back in MANHOOD

It gives back to a man the independence and control over his sonal and family life that are his fundamental right and his most need. Without these a completely self-reliant and dominant man not thrive.

Man was intended to be a dominant, independent being. Every detail of his affairs that he relinquishes to others, means that much less independence and dominance, that much less of mental, moral and physical strength.

It matters not that in the world of business ninety-five per cent of all men are employees and take orders from the other five per cent. That is but an expedient of modern business and is a mere detail of living.

It is quite another thing to let this dependence on others' initiative extend into your private life. To turn over to others the control of the place that is the center of your whole personal and family life is NOT GOOD FOR YOUR MANHOOD.

Besides making you secondary and lessening your self-respect and your confidence in your own abilities, it saps your strength and re-sourcesfulness, through their being allowed to fall into disuse.

It makes you a Self Starter—A Go Getter—Dominant D

MUTT AND JEFF—WE FEEL SORRY FOR SPIVIS' SISTER—

BRINGING UP FATHER—

SHORT SHAVINGS

Robert Kieffer, drug clerk, says he wishes he had noticed the seat number on his theater ticket. Then he could have found his seat without it. "I was on my way to the theater," he says, "and when I got off the car I absent-mindedly dropped my theater ticket in the fare box."

Allan Brady, visiting in the country, sat on a high fence and fell into a pond in the yard. "The farmer was mad at me," reports Brady. "He said the splash scared the cows."

E. E. Arthur, Underhillville banker, reports he has figured out a scheme to escape working his garden this summer. "I covered it with canvas," he explains, "and cut little holes in it for the vegetables to come up thru."

Harri Jones tells about a friend who reported that his ice chest fell thru the floor of his summer cottage. He called the landlord out to look at it. The landlord said the floor was perfectly solid. He jumped up and down on it to prove what he said. And went thru in another place.

STREET CAR PATRONS CONFUSED BY NEW PLAN OF ISSUING TRANSFERS

B. J. Jones, receiver of the Ohio Electric Railway company, has effected a new ruling, whereby patrons of city street cars now receive transfers only when they request them from the conductor. Transfers will be given as passengers are leaving the car.

The new order is now in effect. Patrons on most cars will ride until they arrive at the junction with the car which they decide to board. With few exceptions, transfers are not made in the public square, but at the intersection with the car the holder of the transfer wishes to take. The new order of things is confusing to many car riders. It is said conductors say they have been having their hands full, the past three days, educating the traveling public to the new order, they state.

A new feature of the change is that transfers are good only 15 minutes from the time they are punched.

TUBERCULOSIS EXPERT EXPRESSES THANKS FOR AID IN LOCAL CLINIC

Mrs. J. B. Poling, chairman of the nursing division of the Red Cross, Lima, has received from Dr. J. A. Frank, chief of the Bureau of Tuberculosis, Columbus, words of appreciation to members of that organization for assistance and co-operation in the tuberculosis clinic, held in Lima May 31 and June 1.

Dr. Frank was here personally to look after the clinic. In his communication he says: "The state clinic program aims to assist the community to solve its own tuberculosis problem and it is only by co-operation of all local agencies the end will be accomplished."

"The public health nursing service is one of the most important activities in the campaign and it is indeed gratifying to have the profession take this active part in the state clinic program," Dr. Frank states.

He also emphasizes the fact that the rooms in the Health Center, Elm and Elizabeth streets, are well adapted to the purpose and were a great convenience to the clinic.

RADIO ASSURES SAFE LANDING OF AIRPLANES

WASHINGTON.—Airplanes in the future will be able to find their landing stations at night and in the densest fogs, because of radio.

Experts of the U. S. Bureau of Standards have adopted a method by which pilots, nearing their destination, will be able to tell by radio exactly where they are in relation to the landing stations. The new radio system makes the degree of Several new methods were tried before the use of radio was undertaken. On experimenting with a special airplane it was found that the radio system gave the pilot definite information as to where he was in relation to the landing station.

This radio landing signal consists of two horizontal coils placed one above the other near the ground. The currents in these coils flow in opposite directions at a fairly high radio frequency.

By various tests it has been ascertained that the signals radiated from the two coils are strongest for an airplane flying parallel to the ground, whenever the machine is inside a comparatively small ring-shaped area directly above the landing field.

The strongest signals are received when the line joining the airplane to the coils is about 30 degrees from the vertical. Then the signals grow weaker as the airplane flies toward the spot directly above the transmitting coils. There, the signal vanishes.

As the airplane flies away from this point, the signals become stronger until the plane reaches the 30-degree line at the other end of the ring. Flying farther the pilot finds the signals vanish almost as he has left this ring.

General Squier's "wired wireless" soon found themselves in trouble. As a matter of fact any elevated conductor, even though it be but a poor one, will serve as a collector of electro-magnetic energies. If the receiver be connected to the bed springs and the incoming signals are sufficiently powerful, the broadcast programs may be received in this manner. This has been tried by many amateurs.

Screen doors, door bell wires, unused portions of telephone lines, fences, barbed wire, which does not actually touch earth, and finally, the electric light supply wires within the house have been tried successfully.

THE THING WHICH STRIKES ONE AS

CONNECT TO ONE SIDE ONLY TO SET

"WIRED WIRELESS" CONNECTION

odd about the connection to the source of electric power, is that these wires are already carrying current. It is this same fact that brought disaster either to the fuses in the circuit, or to the radio receiving apparatus, itself.

In most electric supply systems, one side of the line is grounded. This step is taken as a protection to the system should anything go out of order. Inasmuch as the radio receiving equipment is also grounded when connection is made thru the lamp socket to the supply line, there is a chance that the connection will be made to the underground wire.

If this is done, current will flow in unlimited quantities. Any fuses in the circuit will blow out—or, if the windings of the radio receiver are of small gauge copper wire, they will burn up.

The currents produced in a radio receiver alternate at an incomprehensible rate from positive to negative in character. The rate of these alternations are usually up in the hundreds of thousands. The currents produced in an electric supply line are direct current.

DOUBLE SET ON LARGEST LINER

The new steamship Majestic, world's largest liner, has one of the most modern radio rooms in existence. The equipment includes a double outfit for radiophone and telegraph transmission. Radio Operator Tamplin is shown above sending a code message. At his left is the "CW" panel for radio-telephony. At his right, the "quenched spark set" for radio-telegraphy.

lino by the generators in the power house, are also alternating currents, but their rate of alternation from positive to negative is comparatively slow, usually being about 60 times a second.

APPLICATION

If a small condenser—a device consisting of alternate layers of conducting and insulating material—is connected between the radio receiving set and the electric light wire, no damage to the fuses and the apparatus can result.

This small condenser will allow the high frequency currents to pass freely, while the low frequency (lighting) currents will find it impossible to force their way thru. Thus the wires serve two purposes.

But speaking generally, an outdoor antenna will be found to be far superior to this wired wireless.

In many places the electric light wire will be found useless as an antenna. When the building is of steel, or the steel conduit thru which it runs be itself grounded, the wire will not act as an aerial.

The real application of the "wired wireless" principle would consist in broadcasting programs over the lighting wires directly and not thru the ether. A comparatively low power transmitter would serve admirably for this purpose.

RADIO PRIMER

BODY CAPACITY — Capacity of the human body for holding electricity. This has to be considered in tuning a radio set, because of the contact of the hand with the tuner knobs. Elimination of body capacity can be effected by lining the inside of the panel with aluminum that is grounded, or by keeping the hands away from knobs by means of long insulated handles.
